HITLER'S AIDES OPEN DRIVE ON TRIO OF "FOES"

Berlin Centers Attacks on Catholics; Provinces Harassing Jews

DEPUTY CONDEMNED

"Racial Discharge" Charged to Many Others

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—The Nazi reich today launched a new drive against Catholics, Protestants, Jews, and "reactionaries" along a nation-wide front, opening Nazidom's big guns with a new outburst of fire which had been continuously awaited for several days.

Carrying out threats made openly by Nazi leaders in week-end speeches throughout the nation, a new and violent wave of anti-Semitism swept the country, being particularly strong in the provinces.

In Berlin Catholics served as the chief target of the Nazi fire.

Keeping step with party leader's repressive measures, the dread People's court, Nazidom's "star chamber" tribunal, in Berlin sentenced a former Communist and Reichstag deputy to death for "high treason"—"high treason" in this case being an attempt to build Communist cells in middle Germany.

Four Others in Prison
The defendant was Albert Kayser, 36, of Berlin. Four others were sentenced to penitentiary terms on similar charges. There is no appeal from decisions of the People's court.

Following up the threat made by propaganda minister, Paul Joseph Goebbels, in a speech yesterday reported well throughout the country—a "spring cleaning" was imminent—Nazis of Goebbels' own Berlin district plastered all Berlin with huge red posters urging the nation to frustrate alleged "provocations" of Catholics.

The nationwide drive against Jews was particularly vigorous. Its scope is reflected in the following dispatches from the provinces:

BRESLAU.—The state police announced four Jews and four "Aryan" girls have been sent to concentration camps for "racial disprace"—Nazis' term for association of Jews and "Aryans."

BERRCIN STRIKES AT HIS OPPONENTS
COLUMBUS, Aug. 5.—Henry J. Berrocin, state director, aid for aged bureau, today smashed back at his critics in Summit-co who accused him of playing politics and which ultimately led to the resignation of John A. Botzum, chairman, Summit-co Aid for the Aged Board, Saturday.

Berrocin emphatically denied that he was playing politics and said that the Summit-co board was not functioning as efficiently as other county boards the same size.

FAYETTE STUDIES COUNTY HOSPITAL
WASHINGTON C. H., Aug. 5.—County officials and interested business men of Fayette-co are compiling data obtained from hospitals in other cities near Washington C. H. on operating costs in their drive to obtain a local hospital.

It is hoped a county hospital to be operated in conjunction with the county home can be approved through the WPA. The institution would cost between $50,000 and $75,000.

G.O.P. Begins to Speculate on Candidate; Names That Head the List in Capital

By Charles Stewart.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—There is one man with whom the Republicans believe they might be able to win, as their presidential candidate for 1936—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.

But they do not believe Senator Borah is available. He is too old. Already he is past 70. Even if chosen, they doubt that he would accept the nomination.

Next after Borah, they speak of Frank O. Lowden as potentially a strong candidate, but he is more than three years older than Borah.

The candidate they are afraid of is Herbert Hoover. If, at the last minute, he signifies a desire to run again, they scarcely see how they can refuse to name him, and of all individuals, they consider that he would be the surest to be beaten.

I have talked recently with the majority of Republicans of any prominence in congress.

Oh, how they wish they could run Borah for the White House next year!

Oh how fearful they are of Hoover!

Since they probably cannot have Borah, and if they succeed in side-stepping Hoover, the consensus, at the present writing, unmistakably is that the party's best "36 bet is Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

Vandenberg's political associates like him. They recognize his honesty and ability, and agree that he is an excellent campaigner. They also admit, confidentially, that they have no idea that the G. O. P. could win with him. Naturally they would prefer a candidate who, they guess, would "stand a chance."

Landon of Kansas
Such a possibility, increasingly discussed, is Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

Landon is not yet nationally much advertised, but he is beginning to be. Notably he appears to have given the Sunflower state an admirably economical administration—an excellent record to back up a platform which must "view with alarm" enormous expenditures of the Roosevelt regime.

Following Landon, I would put Comptroller General John Raymond McCarl next, as a potentiality.

Even more than Landon, he is an unknown quantity from the standpoint of national publicity.

RICHARD E. MYERS DIES IN COLUMBUS
Richard E. Myers, 62, a Columbus florist, well known in this city, died Saturday at 10-10 p. m. at his home, 670 Weyant-ave., following a week's illness.

His widow, the former Sophia Siegfried of this city, is his only survivor.

Funeral services will be held in Grace Lutheran church, Oakwood-ave, Columbus, Tuesday at 2 p. m. with Rev. Ellis Snyder officiating. The deceased was treasurer of the church for the past 11 years.

Masonic services will be conducted tonight by the Ralph R. Rieky Chapter of which he was a member.

Burial will be about 3:30 p. m. Tuesday in Forest cemetery.

Largest Mortgage
LANCASTER, Aug. 5.—The largest mortgage ever to be recorded in Fairfield-co is being placed into the record books by County Recorder Clifton Parish.

The figure represented in the paper is $25,000,000. The Bankers Trust Co., of Ohio, has taken the mortgage for this huge sum from the Toledo and Ohio Central railway.

The sum is placed "on account" by the railroad firm and will be used for maintenance and improvements. Cost of filing the mortgage will be about $50.

INTEREST EBBS AS ASPIRANTS NEAR PRIMARY

Campaigns to Date Have Been Centered About "Card-Passing"

PRIMARY AUGUST 13

Eight in Contest for Mayor Nominations

Circleville is only eight days away from another primary election but interest in the balloting has not yet reached that fever pitch which usually precedes such an election.

The many candidates for the city offices have been waging quiet campaigns, handing out cards here and there, and getting in the right words to the right persons in an effort to build up their strength.

Contests on both tickets for mayor will naturally draw a number of persons to the polls August 13. There are three candidates for the Democratic nomination and five for the Republican toga.

State Platforms

All three of the Democrats, Mayor W. B. Cady, seeking his second term; D. Adrian Yates and Raymond H. Smith, have in public statements announced their platforms. Each platform is very exacting and should either be nominated and elected the city would be certain to enjoy great success in at least the next two years—providing the platforms could be followed as outlined.

A real contest is found on the G. O. P. side of the state. Continued On Page Five

MRS. STEBBINS, 80, NATIVE HERE, DIES

Sister of Drs. E. J. and R. F. Lilly Succumbs; Funeral Services Tuesday.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 3 p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. H. Legg, 144 W. Woodruff-ave, Columbus, for Mrs. Frances Stebbins, aged 80, wife of Charles F. Stebbins, who died at 9:50 p. m. Saturday of organic heart disease after a five weeks' illness.

Burial will be in Forest cemetery by the W. H. Albaugh Co.

Mrs. Stebbins was a Circleville native being born April 2, 1855, a daughter of Dr. William and Mary Ellen Robbins Lilly. She resided here until her marriage April 23, 1879, at which time she removed to Columbus.

She is survived by her husband; two children, Mrs. Helen Legg of Columbus, and Mrs. Genevieve Graves of Dayton; four grandchildren; two brothers, Drs. E. J. Lilly and R. F. Lilly of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Ellen Terwilliger of Tuscon, Arizona.

Mrs. Stebbins was a member of the Methodist church.

Pall bearers will include E. F. Kepke, J. E. Graves, Richard Graves, Fred W. Legg, H. Pearl Legg, and Arthur Cornelius.

Various Charges in Police Courts
Six persons were arrested in Circleville over the week-end on intoxication charges.

Marsh Shisler, W. Main-st, was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Cady and committed to the Cincinnati workhouse. Frank Rogers, Circleville, was committed to the county jail to serve out a fine of $10 and costs. Edward Rutter, Weldon-ave, and Don Myers of Portsmouth, were released by Mayor Cady after receiving lectures. Gilbert Wright, 35, New Holland, posted bond to appear before Mayor Cady Monday.

Cecil Johnson, 27, of Coalton, O., is scheduled to have a hearing before H. O. Eveland, justice of peace, today, on a charge of driving an auto while intoxicated. Johnson was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Bob Armstrong Sunday night on N. Court-st.

Alton Cain, Circleville, posted $5 bond to appear before Mayor Cady for a traffic violation resulting from parking his car in a down town alley Saturday.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Mandeville Zenge appeared in the criminal court this morning on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by his attorney.

Police said that they would charge him with the mutilation murder of Dr. Walter J. Bauer if Judge Cornelius Harrington declined to allow them to hold him for further questioning.

Antioch Student to Stay With Sideshow

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Anne Sibley is free, white and twenty-one and she doesn't think it a bit strange to prefer the atmosphere of a musty Coney Island sideshow to the cloistered halls of Antioch college in Yellow Springs, O.

Anne, daughter of Joseph C. Sibley, a Chicago lawyer, was back at her job as a performer today in the sideshow in which she was found on Saturday after a month's search on the part of her parents. Moreover that's where she's going to stay, she says.

IMLER STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Salesman Stunned as Bolt Damages His Property; Phone Circuits Hit.

Russell Imler, salesman for the Southern Ohio Electric Co., was stunned by lightning Saturday evening when a bolt struck the chimney on his residence and traveled through the house damaging electrical and plumbing fixtures.

Mr. Imler was standing at a kitchen window in the rear of his home when the flash came and he said for an instant he could not understand what had happened. Shortly afterward he felt a stinging feeling in the right side of his face and examination showed it was swollen and red. A large part of the swelling had left his face Monday but a small bump remained a fraction of an inch from his right ear where the electricity hit him.

Son, 11, Uninjured
Jack, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Imler, was standing just back of his father when the bolt struck but was unhurt. Mrs. Imler was in the dining room at the time.

Several light fixtures in the house were damaged and in one room plastering was torn out from around a wall switch. The lightning apparently was grounded from the light circuit in the bathroom as a black streak was burned through the wallpaper where it jumped from a light fixture to a shower bath rod. The rod was pitted with tiny holes.

Bricks were torn from the chimney and Mrs. Imler had to immediately start housecleaning as soot from the chimney was blown over about every room in the residence.

Toll Circuits 'Out'
Toll circuits between Circleville, Williamsport, Ashville and Laurelville was out for a short time after the storm but were quickly repaired by telephone company linemen. No serious damage to electrical equipment was reported by either the light or telephone companies.

Saturday's storm followed three days of sweltering weather during which the temperature hung at the 96-degree mark every afternoon. Dr. H. R. Clarke, local weatherman, reported the rainfall was approximately one inch. Practically all streams in the county were swollen Saturday night but none went out of bank.

Auto, Truck Hit; Plan Rites Here

Widely-Known Educator and Wife, Enroute to Home in Seattle After Visit Here, Victims of Accident; Leave Three Grown Children; Funeral at Orion King Residence.

Ralph R. Upton, 66, of Seattle, Wash., former principal at Evert's high school, and his wife, Mrs. Anna Upton, 59, former Circleville resident, were killed Saturday night in a truck-auto crash three miles east of Wanatah, Ind.

Mr. Upton, the man who devised the nation-wide safety slogan "Stop, Look and Listen" was killed outright in the crash. Death was caused from a fractured skull.

Mrs. Upton died several hours after the accident in Holy Family hospital, La Porte, Ind., of head injuries.

Their bodies will be returned to Circleville by train Tuesday at 11:40 a. m.

The double funeral will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. at the Orion King home, W. High-st.

Rev. W. Newton Mantle of Mt. Sterling will officiate with burial in the Miller family lot in Forest cemetery by Mader & Ebert.

The Upton car collided with a truck on U. S. Route 30. Clifton Robinson, negro, Montpelier, Ind., told La Porte-co authorities his brakes jammed causing the crash. He was released after brief questioning.

In City For Month
Mr. and Mrs. Upton left Circleville Saturday morning after spending a month with Mr. and Mrs. King during which they visited with friends and relatives and were guests at numerous social events. It was their first trip to this city in twelve years.

On their return trip the couple planned to visit Yellowstone National park and upon leaving said their first stop would be Michigan City. They were but a short distance from that city when the accident occurred. They left their home June 17 and on their journey to Ohio had stopped in many states to visit friends. While here Mr. Upton made a brief trip to New York state for a visit.

Organized Cadets
Mr. Upton was principal of the old Evert's high school here for two years, 1896 and 1897. He was well-liked and was the founder of the Circleville Cadets, a military organization that existed here for many years.

Nine graduates of the class of 1900 met last Friday evening and visited with Mr. Upton at the King residence to recall old experiences at Evert's high school.

While teaching here Mr. Upton met Miss Anna Miller whom he later married on June 9, 1893. The couple left Circleville soon after their marriage when Mr. Upton accepted a teaching position in the Chillicothe high school. He was in Chillicothe but a short time when he accepted another teaching position in Streeter, Ill., where he was a member of the high school faculty for 10 years.

Before moving to Seattle 24 years ago, Mr. Upton purchased a newspaper in Middletown, O., but stayed there only a short time.

Graduate Yale
Mr. Upton was born Jan. 12, 1869 and was a graduate of the Yale school of law. He practiced law several years in Washington before coming east and entering educational work. Mr. Upton was the last member of the Upton family.

Mrs. Upton was the daughter of the late Michael C. and Sarah Hickman Miller of South Bloomfield. She was born Jan. 14, 1876, and was a graduate of Evert's high school.

The couple is survived by three children: Charles M. Upton, employee of a Seattle newspaper; Marietta Upton, continuity writer for a Seattle radio station; Ralph W. Upton, Seattle, credit manager for a wholesale grocery establishment, and one grandchild, William Upton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Upton.

Mrs. Upton is survived by one sister, Mrs. Orion King, Circleville, and a brother, Michael S. Miller of Ashville.

Mrs. King was notified of the accident shortly after midnight Saturday and left at once for the Indiana city with Paul Cromley, Ashville, a son-in-law of Mr. Miller. They returned early Monday after making arrangements to have the bodies brought here.

The will of John W. Creighton, late Perry-twp farmer, admitted to probate Saturday, leaves his estate to his widow, Mrs. Annie Creighton and names her "executrix. The will was dated July 26, 1911.

Measure Boosting Some Levies To Record Mark Now Goes to Senate.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The $270,000,000 tax bill, which raises some levies to record levels, was passed by the House today.

The measure now goes to the Senate, where it faces strong attacks on the ground that it would virtually confiscate many estates and would hamper recovery.

While the measure was designed by the ways and means committee to carry out the essentials of President Roosevelt's surprise message of June 19, it flouted presidential recommendations on some issues.

Before final passage, Republicans made a final attempt to kill the bill. Rep. Treadway (R) Massachusetts, offered a motion to recommit it to committee without recommendation. The motion failed.

With the senate finance committee slated to act on the measure this week, Democratic senate leaders hoped to obtain passage next week.

LAURELVILLE HIT BY HEAVY STORM
Heavy damage to farm crops and electrical equipment in the Laurelville district was caused by Saturday's storm.

The local telephone company reported about 50 poles down on rural roads and numerous wires broken by falling tree limbs. About 150 telephones were out of commission in the district Saturday night. Linemen worked Sunday clearing the lines and resetting poles.

The high wind overturned a gasoline pump shelter at the garage of C. J. Hinton, Tarleton, and heavy corn was broken and flattened in the section between Laurelville and Tarleton.

The Southern Ohio Electric company reported no heavy damage from the storm.

To Sell Notes Against Anticipated School Aid
The Williamsport board of education has filed a resolution with the county auditor to sell notes in anticipation of an allotment of $3,998 from the state department of education as state aid for the past school year.

The allotment will clear up the board's deficit for the last term of school. Scioto-twp school has been granted $7,200 state aid.

SCORES FLOCK TO GOLF CLUB FOR TOURNEYS

Johnny Mader Beaten in Upset; 2-Ball Foursome Attracts Many Golfers.

The Pickaway Country club enjoyed the greatest day since its inception Sunday when the golf course was busy from 8 a. m. until dusk, the tennis courts were the scene of activity throughout the day, and many persons enjoyed social gatherings in the clubhouse and about the spacious grounds.

The elimination matches for the club golf championship, the Scotch two-ball foursome in the afternoon and the tennis matches drew scores of persons to the club.

In one of the surprise matches of the day, John D. Bragg, steady and consistent golfer, eliminated Johnny Mader from the championship flight, 2 up and 1 to go.

Bragg's dogged determination on him the match when Mader slipped to take a six on No. 6 and re-putted No. 17 after driving a green.

Black Has Battle
Dewey C. Black, defending club champion, won his first match, though forced to No. 17 before he defeated Tom O. Gililand, 2 up and 1 to go.

Glen Geib eliminated C. R. Arnhart 2 up in the championship class winning the last two holes after the match was square at No. 17. Geib sung a song put on No. 17 to break the deadlock.

Lent Hanson turned the tables on C. T. Gilmore, greens committee chairman, to win 3 up and to go. Gilmore a year ago eliminated Hanson.

Frank S. Marion's recent fine scores were to no avail as he fell to the wizardry of Dr. G. D. Phillips who won 3 up and 1 to go.

In a Class A flight match George Fickard won from Harold Ant 4 up and 3 to go and N. E. Reichelderfer turned back Charles May, 7 and 6.

Tourney Mix Success
The 2-ball mixed Scotch foursome was won by Mrs. Ned Groom and John Bragg with 44. Runners were Mrs. Dewey Black and Evans with 46. Mrs. Paul Adams and Lent Hanson had 47 and Charlotte Bell and Emil Robson a 50. Other scores were: S. Bragg and Paul Adams, 51; S. Hanson and Dewey Black, 52; Mr. Workman and Mrs. White, 53; White and Miss May, 54; Rowland and Mrs. Copeland, 55; Copeland and Mrs. Rowland led to turn in their cards.

John Bragg pulled the best of the day when he took off his shoes and socks on No. 9 and played a shot from the creek.

The Scotch tournament was one of the greatest successes ever attempted at the club and it is to be said there will be more before the year has reached its end.

The usual twilight tournament will be held Tuesday at 6 p. m. The "Fussy Foursome" has been challenged to a match for Wednesday, but Hobson is not announcing the challengers.

SCHMIDT CALLS 55 GRID STARS

COLUMBUS, Aug. 5.—The voice of Football Coach Francis A. Schmidt of Ohio State sounded through the state today when he warned 55 Buckeye grid candidates to "get in shape" before they report here Sept. 10, opening date for fall practice. The 55 Buckeye players, recipients of invitations to participate in pre-season drills, are expected to appear at Ohio Stadium ready for most anything. Schmidt doesn't believe in isometric drills to toughen the boys. That's what summer vacations are for, he says.

Scrimmage First Day
During the 1934 season, Schmidt's first at Ohio State, ckeye grid candidates were rally jolted from their cleated beds when he ordered a heavy "rummy" scrimmage the first day camp.

A wealth of seasoned material will be on hand to greet Schmidt. Approximately 18 lettermen are scheduled to make an appearance Sept. 10. About one-half of those receiving invitations are players who starred with the Ohio frosh last fall.

ASHVILLE LOSES TO EX-PITCHER

The worm turned Sunday afternoon and Asheville lost a Central league ball game to Grove City by a 15-6 score. Art Meir, released by GeeBee Stocker, was the mound for the winners. Lefty Swinehart pitched for Asheville. Brie beat Oetz, 3 to 1; Columbus police whipped Lafayette, 4 to 1; and White way grill beat Hanna, 9 to 1, in other league games.

Cleveland Star Is Seriously Ill

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 5.—An injury and accident jinx which harassed the Cleveland Indians since the beginning of the season today continued to shadow the club. It can be blamed in part for the resignation of Walter Johnson as manager of the tribe.

The latest mishap to befall the Indians was the serious illness of Bruce Campbell, right fielder acquired by the Indians from the St. Louis Browns, who yesterday was taken to Harper hospital here with cerebro spinal fever.

Campbell played for eight innings against the Detroit Tigers in the first game of a double header and then asked to be relieved because he "didn't feel well."

Yesterday he awoke with a severe chill and complained to his roommate, Lloyd Brown, left handed pitcher. Taken to Harper hospital, his illness was diagnosed and he was immediately put to bed and anti-meningococcus serum treatments were given.

Physicians said he has a fifty-fifty chance to live, but stated he would be out the rest of the season, if not permanently. The ailment, they said, is a mild form of cerebral meningitis and often ends fatally. It is not contagious, however, and other Cleveland players will not be isolated.

SPECIALS, CHOWS TANGLE TONIGHT

The recreation ball loop will be resumed this evening when the Jones Specials and Purina Chows, two topnotch contenders for the second half title, tangle on the SOElectric Co. field.

The Specials started their second half drive with a victory while the only game contested by the Chows will be played over.

Tuesday, the Chows will again go into action competing against the re-organized Circleville Oils.

Friday evening, the Cities Service Oils will travel to Newark to play the crack Richner Oils under the lights. The Oils are planning to do some strengthening in weaker points.

Miss Marilyn Eccles, popular young Idaho horsewoman, reigns as queen of the 16th annual Henry's stampede and stockmen's reunion held in Soda Springs, Idaho, Aug. 1-3. Miss Eccles is one of the favorite cowgirls of the Rockies, and was chosen from a score of aspirants to the honor.

JOHNSON OUT, O'NEILL IN AS INDIAN LEADER

Big Train Resigns After Cleveland Loses 3 Straight Games to Tigers.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 5.—Walter Johnson, the "big train" of baseball, was through as manager of the Cleveland Indians today, his departure hastened from the club's berth by the fact that the Detroit Tigers beat his team three in a row here.

Steve O'Neill, former catcher for the Indians and assistant to Johnson, was elevated to the manager-ship.

Johnson, according to Alva Bradley, president of the club, will remain with the Indians as a scout, passing on the ability of young players in Indian farms throughout the country.

His resignation as manager was voluntary, Bradley said. It was announced as the Indians returned to Cleveland from their disastrous Detroit series.

Confers an Hour

Johnson, upon his arrival in the Ohio city, was called into an hour's conference with Bradley and then came the announcement he was through.

It was not unexpected, after a conference with Bradley here Friday, Johnson had asked newspaper reporters "what are you fellows going to write about after I do go back to the farm?"

His resignation said: "After several conferences with the owners of the club I suggested to them that a change in managers might remove the pressure which I think some of our young players are under.

"Injuries and sickness have been a great handicap this year but the boys have made a good fight under adverse conditions and this young club some day will make a great team.

"I have told Mr. Bradley of my desire to step out. He has accepted my resignation, but has requested that the thorough check I have made of the progress of the young men on the team be made the property of the club. This I have agreed to do."

Johnson wished O'Neill the "best of luck."

ADAMS KILLS HAWK

James Adams, son-in-law of Mrs. O. H. Dunton, will have a beautiful mounted specimen of a giant fish hawk to show his friends when he returns from his vacation in West Virginia. A clipping from a West Virginia newspaper received here says the following:

A fish hawk, wing spread five feet six inches, was killed by Mr. James H. Adams of Covington Saturday afternoon on the Midland trail near Callaghan.

"Mr. Adams had stopped his car at a service station when he saw the fish hawk hovering over a nearby stream. He borrowed a shotgun from the service station and as the big bird flew to a dead tree limb he shot it.

"His aim was true and the hawk fell from the tree hanging there for a second by one great talon.

"Mr. Adams will have the big bird mounted as it is a beautiful specimen and this type of hawk is rarely seen.

For Two Reasons

Walter Johnson's end was seen early in the season—Two reasons are foremost; his team is not in first place, and he fired Bill Kamm and Glenn Myatt, for which the Indian fans could never forgive him. The fact that his team has been riddled by injuries is not taken into consideration when the failure to lead the league is recounted * * *

BLADES' STALLING

The act of Ray Blades' men in stalling at Minneapolis is lauded highly in some of the Columbus news sheets. If some other manager had tried that in Columbus they would never have quit roasting him. * * *

FOUR ARE BUNCHED

The result of the coaches' contest for the all-star team Aug. 29 is not yet certain. Charlie Bachman, Frank Thomas, Bo McMillen and Slip Madigan are bunched * * * live up to pre-season predictions. Sports writers and even Johnson himself had forecast they would be league champions. When they failed, the fans began clamoring for Johnson's scalp.

Even then the day of reckoning might have been postponed had the Indians made a clean sweep of the Tigers series here. Instead, they lost both games of a double header Saturday and dropped the third game, 7 to 0, to Detroit yesterday.

Detroit thus became the "jinx" town for Johnson. It was here 28 years ago last Friday that he pitched his first major league ball game for the Washington Senators. He lost. It also was in Detroit that he ended his days as a pitcher.

Johnson, who burned up the American league in his hey-day with "the fastest ball ever thrown" was discovered while pitching for a semi-pro team in Idaho and made the jump directly into the big leagues. Later he became the hero of the 1934 world series.

He became manager of the Newark club of the International league in 1927, and then manager of the Washington Senators for four years. He retired from baseball for a half year but left his farm to become manager of the Indians on June 10, 1933. The Indians finished fourth that year and third in 1934. They are in fifth place now.

An injury jinx shadowed the team throughout the season and Johnson with a shrug said:

"Well, I'm manager, ain't I? I might as well take the blame for that, too."

DEFENBAUGH HITS GOOD FISH LUCK

Ivan Defenbaugh, senior announcer on the state highway patrol and a former Pickaway-co resident, reported catching a nice string of bass last week in the Olentangy river near the Delaware-co line.

Defenbaugh took five small-mouthed bass out of the river in 30 minutes using soft craws. He fished "pot holes" along the river.

Royal Castle Too Costly

DRESDEN.—Sibyllenort Castle in Silesia, which used to be the hunting box of the house of Wettin, the former rulers of Saxony, has been offered to the German army by Prince Christian of Saxony. The upkeep of the huge castle is too expensive for its present owners. The English royal family is of the House of Wettin.

RACQUET CLUB TAKES MATCH

Defeats Country Club Four Matches To Three Sunday Afternoon.

The Circleville Racquet club defeated the Pickaway Country club four matches to three in an interesting tennis tournament on the country club court Sunday afternoon. The matches were witnessed by a large and interested crowd.

The matches resulted as follows:

Men's singles; John Mason, Country club, won 6-1 from Nathan Groban of the Racquet club, and Mowry, Racquet club, copped 6 to 3 from Tom Brunner, Country club.

Men's doubles; Don Henry and Otis Mader, Racquet club, were victors over Bishop Given and William Radcliff, Country club, 6-0.

Mixed doubles; Jim Reichelderfer and Doris Moffitt, Racquet club, took William Radcliff and Charlotte Bell, Country club, 6 to 4 in the day's thriller. Otis and Marjorie Mader, Racquet club, defeated Fred Grant and Martha Mader, Country club, 6 to 0. Martha Mader and Tom Brunner, Country club, won 6 to 1 over Nathan Groban and Jane Littleton, Racquet club.

Jane Mader, Country club, took a fast match from Jane Littleton, Racquet club, 6 to 4.

Plans are being made for a county-wide open tennis tournament to be conducted within the next few weeks at the Country club.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—A twenty-two-year-old check for five cents today was a prized possession of Mrs. Mary Young of Kansas City. It was issued May 20, 1913, by a deputy recorder of taxes in the borough of Brooklyn for an overdraft made by Mrs. Young, a resident there at that time.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop No. 3 motored to the Mead in Chillicothe Friday for swimming.

Patrol No. 1 went to Logan Elm Tuesday afternoon for handcraft and nature study and a picnic supper. The girls plan to go to Logan Elm every week. Mary Katherine Pile won a prize for being the first girl to pass her second class work.

Girls in the troop are working on their exhibit for the Pumpkin show this fall.

Latest motto across the Atlantic seems to be: Soak the French and save the franc.

COLD WAVE COMING! CLEAR HEADS COOL OFF WITH CALVERT

Scientific Opinion states:

"By its oxidation . . . reduces the temperature."
"Allows a rapid lowering of temperature."
"Results in much of the blood in the body reaching the surface and becoming rapidly cooled."

Tropical Statistics prove:

Of the liquors imported into tropical countries, whiskey is the 3-to-1 favorite. In the Republic of Colombia whiskey is out in front 23-to-1; in Chile, 30-to-1; in Ecuador, 7-to-1. Take a tip from the tropics . . . cool off with CALVERT.

IT'S EASY SLEDDING ON A HOT DAY WITH A CALVERT "BOB SLED RICKEY"

Easy and Economical To Make

Half fill a highball glass with cracked ice. Add 1 wineglass of CALVERT and the juice of 1 lime. Fill highball glass with carbonated water. Stir well, sip and laugh at the humidity.

"Special" FIFTHS $1.90 (Code No. 2099B) PINTS $1.20 (Code No. 2099C)

HOW CLEAR HEADS COOL OFF WITH CALVERT...

Pour yourself a tall, cool CALVERT highball. Drink. What happens? First, your circulation is stimulated. Next, the heat is driven from the interior of your body, rolled to the surface of your skin. There, the heat radiates, evaporates, dissipates. Your blood is refrigerated. Your body temperature drops. You feel refreshed . . . cooled . . . comfortable!

CALVERT'S SPECIAL RESERVE and CALVERT'S SPECIAL Blended Whiskies are the best of the better blends. Use good judgment. Buy better whiskey. Call for CALVERT.

But why CALVERT? Because CALVERT is the best of the better blends . . . mellower, smoother whiskey . . . amazing in flavor, distinguished in bouquet . . . the whiskey clear heads call for . . . the whiskey that, enjoyed in gentlemanly moderation, lets you salute tomorrow with a smile. WHO DESERVES RELIEF?

THE difficulty in the path of relief officials today is one which has existed in some degree from the beginning of relief. The refusal of men to work at private employment when they may live, in idleness, upon relief is an inescapable consequence of the system, large and loose as it is. It is the breakdown in morale feared from the inception of our modified dole.

That it should become so wide-spread, however, as actually to create a shortage of labor in some sections is bound to shock and surprise many persons. They have believed that everywhere there are men and women asking only the chance to go to work. Now it appears there are large bodies of them refusing work when it is offered them, preferring to live on the bounty of the government. It is a transformation of the American idea of independence, of the American insistence upon a right to work more fundamental and far more important than the immediate problem it creates.

Obviously relief officials must move to counteract a tendency so dangerous. It is hard to believe that any action they may take will be too drastic. We have never heard of anyone entitled to relief being denied it. It appears there are many not entitled to it who are receiving it.

IT'S EPIDEMIC

A CCC lad, far from accustomed scenes and thrown in with none but strangers, became so overwhelming homesick the camp physician ordered him a furlough, sent him on a visit to his mother and sent the parent a note saying the young fellow was suffering from "acute nostalgia."

The emergency conservation bureau recently received a claim from the mother for damages under the United States employees' act, alleging that her son had never suffered from nostalgia before leaving home. There is no question but that the government will disallow the claim. To do otherwise would set a dangerous precedent.

If homesickness in new deal surroundings is a compensable ailment, then the administration will have claims enough against to exhaust the treasury. Probably Carter Glass would be plaintiff No. 2.

LESS SPENDING

It has been estimated that if the government confiscated all taxable incomes for one year, the sum in hand would pay present federal operating expenses for less than 18 months.

That is an astounding condition. It brings out in bold relief the extent to which the nation is living.

With 154 flavors for ice cream listed by a trade organ, why do they insist on using gelatin?

Has Babe Ruth been informed that the nominee for vice president on the Coxe ticket has withdrawn?

Now that "solid" gasoline is reported invented, will it take the place of that kind of traffic cop?

THE DEVIL'S MANSION

READ THIS FIRST:

Blair Rodman is riding in a truck with Janet Lord from the town of Bolsevain in western Canada to the weird old home of an elderly Miss Boisevain who lives in a huge house with only a woman servant and a fierce dog. They have just met. He is going to retrieve his car that became mired in the ditch near the Boisevain house during a terrific thunderstorm the night before. Shortly afterward the queer old woman refused him shelter and her dog chased him from the house. McClure, the truck driver, tells Blair there is much mystery about the Boisevain house. The girl is on her way to Miss Boisevain's to become her companion after answering an ad in a Vancouver paper following her father's death. She shows Blair an attractive letter from Miss Boisevain and then bids him goodbye as they reach the house. When McClure tells him he brought another young girl to the Boisevain house two months previously who never returned, Blair decides to delay his trip a few days. Meanwhile Janet meets Miss Boisevain who surprises her as much as does her bizarre house. Janet learns that Nita cannot talk. She notices Miss Boisevain's crystal ring and, gazing into it, sees Blair Rodman's features. Janet is surprised when Rajah, the dog, is summoned from the room by a shrill whistle which she knows was given by neither Miss Boisevain nor Nita. She is further amazed when she finds there is no furniture in her bedroom except a small cot. When she retires for the night, the dog follows Janet and prevents her closing her door. Janet, prevents her closing her door, and lies in the doorway, his eyes gleaming in the darkness.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 12

DROWSY, yet not daring to fall asleep, Janet lay in bed rigid, watching the dog's eyes. Time passed. She thought it must be nearly dawn, she had walked so long.

Still no sound from the lower floor, not even the slight noise of a door opening. Her own breathing frightened her, so loud it seemed. She put her hand on her heart, and felt it pounding wildly against the walls of her chest.

What was that? Footsteps! A light tread, walking down the hall, stopping now, and walking again. Rajah's eyes were not visible. She thought he must have gone; then she saw his eyes again, bright as ever. Rajah had just turned his head.

"Nita!" she called loudly. Yet this could not be Nita, because when she had come up with the servant, Nita had walked silently, stealthily, like a ghost in felt-soled slippers. "Miss Boisevain!" It must be Miss Boisevain, who was coming down the hall. No, the tread was not as heavy as hers must be, for Miss Boisevain was a big woman.

Back and forward the footsteps went, and then to her door each time, but not quite.

"Miss Boisevain! Will you please call the dog away? I can't sleep," Janet pleaded. But the footsteps did not stop. They went on, back and forward in the uncarpeted hall.

When no answer Janet thought she must be dreaming; dreaming she had heard someone out there. She kept quiet for a minute or so. The footsteps continued, as if someone were pacing, deep in thought.

Finally the steps went farther down the hall, getting fainter and fainter as they went. Now, she could hear them no longer. Satisfied, she closed her eyes and breathed a sigh of relief. Someone had been in the hall . . . probably Miss Boisevain or Nita. Whoever it was had gone into a room at the far end.

Someone must have been in the room while she was asleep.

Hardly had she opened her eyes again, when the same shrill whistle she had heard in the living room, came to her ears. The whistle Miss Boisevain had said might belong to a bird, but a whistle which the dog obeyed.

She could hear Rajah rise, and bound down the hall. Quickly, she went to the door, and closed it. She was trembling and weary when she piled her two suitcases in front of the closed door, and climbed into the hard cot. For she could find no key.

Who was it she had heard in the hall? Whoever it was had listened to her calls to take Rajah away . . . had listened and whistled. The same loud whistle in two notes . . . the first slightly higher than the second, the whistle she had heard after tea in the living room. Miss Boisevain had been sitting beside her, so it could not have been she who whistled. Nita could not talk. Or could she? Miss Boisevain had said she could not. Perhaps the maid could talk, and could whistle, too. The tread she had heard in the hall seemed to be footed and sure. She wondered what Miss Boisevain's feet were like. She had not seen them, downstairs.

At any rate, she was more comfortable now with the dog gone, and the door closed. Much more comfortable, even if the suitcase prop at the door was none too secure. If anyone came into the room, the noise of the bags falling to the floor would awaken her.

Relieved, she tried to fall asleep, but as she was drawing off, she heard the tread outside again, steady as had been before. It was muffled now because the door was closed tightly.

As quietly as she could, Janet got out of the cot, slipped off her oxford, and in her stocking feet, crept to the

Roosevelt Personally Anti-Nazi, Considers Shake-Up In Embassy

WASHINGTON — It is no secret that the President is completely out of sympathy with Nazi Germany. It is supposed to be a secret, however, that his State Department has been split over the question of coddling the Nazis or giving them the diplomatic straight-arm.

Up until very recently, the coddlers have had the upper hand. This began just one day after Roosevelt took the oath of office on March 4, 1933. At that time—the initial outbreak of anti-Jewish activities—the career boys in the American Embassy cabled from Berlin that Hitler had promised to be good. The Jewish drive was to terminate. American Jews were to be respected.

Secretary Hull, green at the game, accepted this on its face; was shocked and disappointed a few days later to find that it meant nothing. Meanwhile, insults and arrests of American citizens continued. In some cases Americans have been imprisoned without right to see counsel. Occasionally, the career boys dropped in to see them, but not often. One American's release was secured chiefly because of the mighty howl raised by Senator Borah.

Debt Discrimination
The State Department's most clear-cut opportunity to protest Nazi discrimination was when Germany defaulted on interest payments to American holders of Dawes and Young Plan bonds, meanwhile paying Dutch, Swiss and British holders of the same bonds.

At first the career boys passed up any protest. Finally the Federal Trade Commission went over their heads; took the case direct to the President. After that the State Department got busy.

By this time both Hull and Roosevelt had become a little skeptical about their career boys. Hull found that John White, counselor of the Embassy in Berlin, had deleted certain "free press" sections of Hull's Associated Press speech before making it public in Germany. (Nazis do not believe in a free press.)

As a result of all this, Hull and Roosevelt have been considering a shake-up in the Berlin Embassy. Meanwhile, policy toward the Nazis is dictated direct from the White House.

Roosevelt, from the first days in 1933, was anti-Nazi. Today he is even more so.

It may be too late, however, to make much impression. Confidential reports received here are to the effect that Nazis are dead set on their program; determined to ignore the outside world.

Roosevelt Family

The President's young son John is as successful as the President's wife, Eleanor, in keeping out of the public prints these days.

He has been working strictly incognito at his forestry job with the TVA in the hills of Tennessee. In the sparsely settled reservoir area above Norris Dam, he moves among people who have not seen his picture; meets no probing pressmen.

He eats rough chow, sleeps in rough quarters, enjoys a holiday from curious glances. But one day his incognito broke down.

John had to have some money. He drove to Knoxville, walked into a bank and presented a check.

The name in the lower right corner was "Franklin D. Roosevelt".

Third Party

Harry Hopkins has got himself into the awkward position of giving aid and comfort to the radical Third Party movement.

Almost no one knows it, but the platform of the Third Party group, which met in Chicago last month, was lifted almost bodily out of an economic survey made with FERA federal funds.

The survey was an effort to give work to unemployed. New York had a lot of technical men in or near the breadlines; set them to boon-doggling on this question: What could U. S. industry produce if worked to capacity?

Their unavoidable conclusion was that the country could produce plenty; that present ills grow out of failure to distribute.

It was but a step from this to accusing capitalism of that failure, advocating its overthrow.

The engineers did not take this step, but the Third Party using their findings, did. It lifted the report almost in toto.

One of the engineers helping to prepare the original FERA report was Russian-born radical Walter L. Polakov. Having finished the report, Polakov is now working directly under Hopkins in Washington.

Contract Bridge

By E. V. SHEPARD

CAN IT BE DONE?
THE FOLLOWING hand affords an excellent illustration of splendid defensive strategy against a small slam contract. Had North, who doubled the contract, made an opening lead of his Ace of diamonds he would have handed West fulfillment of his contract, regardless of what was next led. West would have been in on the second lead and taken a single round of trumps. Then he would have discarded one or both hearts from dummy upon his own K-Q of diamonds, for a spread. If North had led his K of clubs dummy would have won the trick. Declarer would have pulled trumps, then he would have led his K of diamonds, giving North his Ace of that suit and enabling West to discard dummy's single losing heart on the good Q of diamonds. But North did neither of these helpful things. He led his K of hearts, removing the Ace and leaving West unable to lead either red suit without going down a trick.

Bidding went: West, 2-Spades; North, doubled for a bid from partner.

Play the hand as declarer did. Win the K of hearts with the Ace. Lead declarer's only club. Cover with North's J. Win with Ace. Lead the 3 of clubs and ruff with the Q of spades. Lead the 10 of spades and overtake with dummy's J, pulling all opposing trumps, as West calculated he had to take this risk. Lead a low club and ruff with the K. Lead back a low trump and win the trick in dummy, giving declarer the sixth straight trick.

Lead a club and ruff with the Ace, taking the last club from North and leaving two good clubs in dummy. Lead a low spade and win in dummy. Have North discard so as to retain a single good heart and the A-J of diamonds.

Lead the two established clubs from dummy. What South does is of no consequence. He cannot possibly win a trick. Discard declarer's last heart on the first club led. Discard the 10 of diamonds on dummy's last club. The last three cards held by each player except South were as shown below.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

Claudette Colbert's favorite hobby is taking kodak pictures, and she adds to the interest of the fad by developing and printing her own snapshots. Miss Colbert is now appearing on the screen of the grand theatre in the starring role of John M. Stahl's powerful Universal drama, "Imitation of Life."

AT THE CLIFTONA

Uncanny mystery, weird "undead" vampires fighting in blood-chilling thrills, and a strange romance told against a background of sinister shadows are the highlights of "Mark of the Vampire," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new detective-terror drama, now playing at the Cliftona Theatre.

Lionel Barrymore, as the strange Professor Zelen, student of demonology plays the outstanding character role in the new picture, and the horrific Count Morya, vampire menace, is enacted with gruesome exactitude by Bela Lugosi of "Dracula" fame. He is teamed with Carol Borland, newly discovered "Vampire Girl," who is seen as his daughter Luna.

Holmes Herbert and James Bradbury, Jr., play two other "undead" terror characters in the weird story.

AT THE CIRCLE

Clive Brook and Madeleine Carroll are contributing their share to the return to romance in screen fare with "Loves of a Dictator," the first Toeplitz Production presented by GB and showing tonight at the Circle Theatre.

Here is not only the romance of loving hearts, but the romance of a man's rise to power. A farmer's son uses his wits, his nerve and his personality to climb to the very top position of power—to a position where he could command people, authority and wealth—and to the ruling position in the heart of the wife of the man whose favors helped him to the top.

FORESIGHT

Mr. Parrott wanted the picture hung to the right of the mirror; Mrs. Parrott wanted it hung to the left. For once he proved the victor, and Joseph, the gardener, was summoned to hang the picture according to his orders.

Obediently Joseph drove in a nail on the right, as directed. This done, he also drove one in the wall on the left.

"What is the second nail for?" Mr. Parrott demanded.

"To save me the trouble of fetching the ladder tomorrow when you come round to the missus' way of thinking," said Joseph.

Diet for Underweight Increases Energy Needs

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

"EVERYBODY is talking about a reducing diet and nobody talks about what I need, which is a fattening diet," growled my cynical and emaciated friend the other evening.

As in the case of diets for overweight, which we discussed yesterday, the only way in which a diet for underweight need differ from a normal diet is in the energy requirement, but, of course, in the case of the underweight the energy requirement must be stepped up. For this purpose the so-called Five Thousand Calorie Diet is a model. It is as follows:

FOOD
Grapes, five ounces; grapefruit, two ounces; bacon, one ounce; egg, one and two-thirds ounces; bread, four ounces; butter, two ounces; cream, five and one-half ounces; sugar, two and two-thirds ounces; grapefruit, ten ounces; pea soup, four ounces; chicken, three and one-third ounces; lima beans, two and two-thirds ounces; corn on cob, three and one-third ounces; sweet potato, two ounces; lettuce, one ounce; tomato, five ounces; oil, one ounce; charlotte russe, one ounce; sweetbreads, three and one-third ounces; biscuit, one and one-half ounces; dates, one ounce; cheese, one and one-third ounces; peaches, three and one-third ounces; cake, two and one-third ounces; chocolate, six ounces.

MEALS
Breakfast—Grapes, grapefruit, cream; omelet, bacon; toast, butter; coffee, sugar.

Dinner—Grapefruit, sugar; cream of pea soup, roast chicken, sweet potatoes, lima beans, corn on cob, tomato salad, charlotte russe, coffee.

Supper—Broiled sweetbread, cream sauce; biscuit, butter; date and cheese salad, peaches, cream; chocolate cake.

CALORIES
Protein 521.11
Fat 2287.80
Carbohydrate 2211.54

Total 5020.45

This diet was planned for the fall season. The following foods may be substituted for other seasons:

Fruits—Strawberries, three and one-third ounces; prunes, three and one-third ounces; pineapple, three and one-third ounces; baked apple, four ounces.

Vegetables—Green peas, three ounces; canned corn, three and one-third ounces; creamed celery, three ounces.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. Strange Coincidence

The sudden death of John N. Hedges at his home in Walnut-twp Thursday afternoon discloses a strange coincidence in the fact that his widow is the fifth daughter of the family of the late John Wilson and wife of Madison-twp to lose her helpmeet by death, as follows: Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Mrs. Emma Salladay, Ashville; Mrs. Simon Alsbaugh, Mrs. David Hall, Madison-twp; Mrs. Hedges, Walnut-twp.

Ex-Ashville Girl Weds

Ruth Marguerite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hockman of Vancouver, Wash., was united in marriage to Capt. Jesse DeWitt Cope, U. S. Army, 27th ult. The Hockman family resided in Ashville some 20 years ago where he served as Mayor of the village. Mrs. Hockman is a sister of Clyde Brinker, Long-st confectioner.

Stricken Visiting Relatives

Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Joplin,

Mo., who came here several weeks ago on a visit to Mrs. C. D. Poulson on Walnut-st and other relatives, suffered a paralytic stroke and is in a serious condition. Mrs. William Fischer, graduate nurse, is in charge of the patient. Mrs. Martin is a sister of the late C. D. Palmer, for a number of years agent for the Norfolk and Western Ry. company at Ashville.

Ex-mayor Conrad Calahan of South Bloomfield, has purchased the Samuel Reynolds property on Route 23 in that village at a price reported around $1,000. This is one of the parcels of property which sold at sheriff's sale last month for the unprecedented price of $4,200, which was $1,750 above appraisalment.

Nevertheless, his geography is right; he is a Nebraskan. His economic past is ideal for today's situation. G. O. P. leadership has a notion that, with proper grooming, it might actually "stand a show" to win with him.

Nye Has a Following

Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota has a substantial following.

He represents somewhat the "youth movement." He is a liberal, but not far enough to the left to terrify the conservative element.

No one imagines that he could win the presidency, however, if nominated.

No one imagines that Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa or Representative James W. Wadsworth of New York could win, either, though their lightning rods are up. Governor Frank F. Merriam of California is mentioned, but with no enthusiasm.

Nor is Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York taken over-seriously.

I like Fish personally. He is a conservative who believes that the conservatives have overdone conservatism and demands that they go into reverse, for their own safety—or they will precipitate a communistic regime. He calls himself a liberal. He is, in a sense, a liberal because he desires to preserve conservatism.

Colonel Frank Knox's bid for the nomination has not produced much impression to date.

The colonel (publisher of the Chicago Daily News) is referred to by politicians as one of the many Republicans who, if nominated, would not stand a ghost of a show of being elected.

Patrick Hurley, who was Hoover's secretary of war, also is an aspirant, but nobody in Washington suggests him.

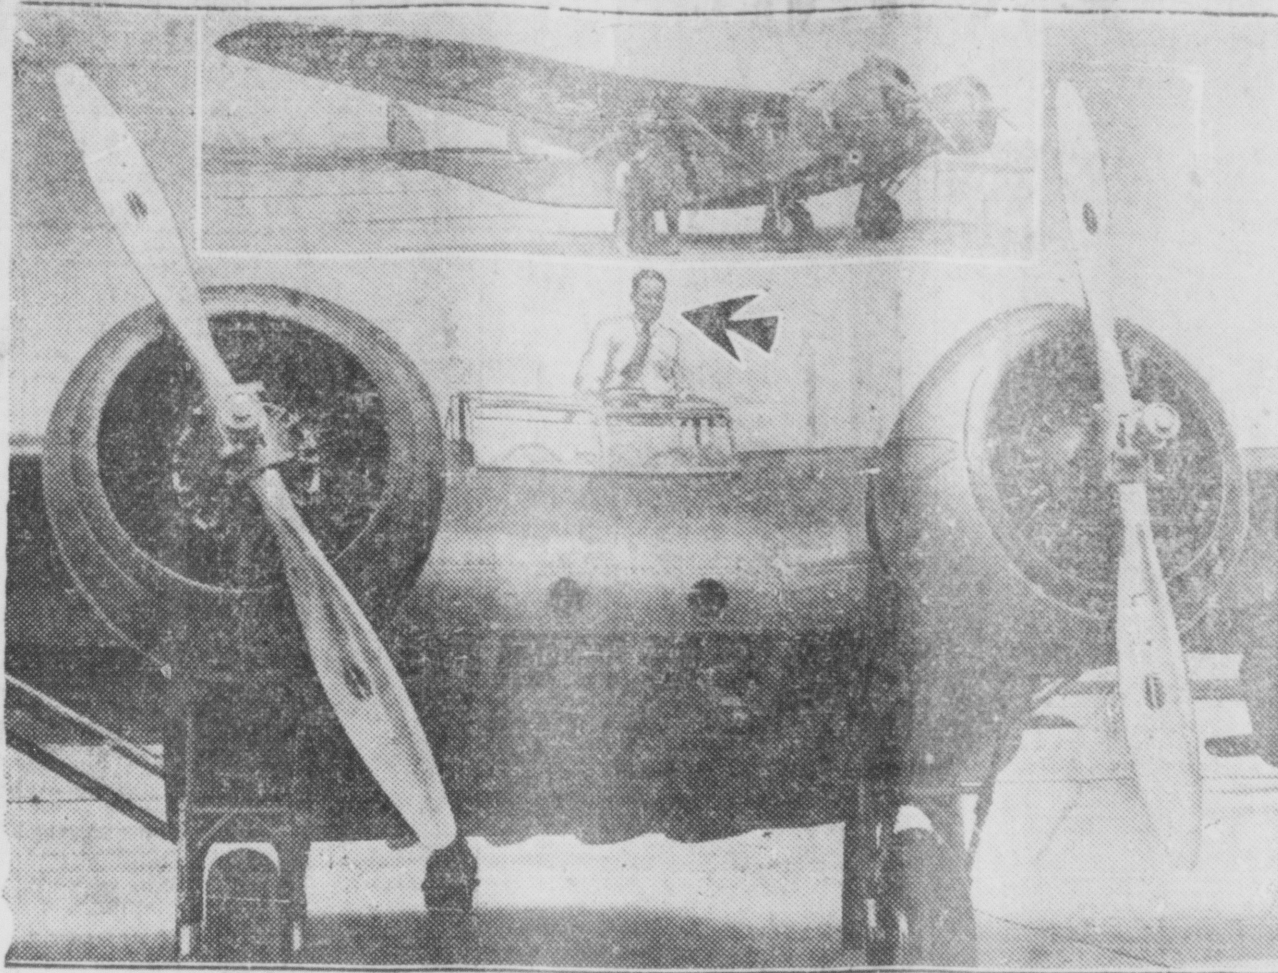

Ogden P. Mills, another Hoover cabinet member, is spoken about, but nobody concedes him a chance for nomination.

Supreme Court Justices Harlan F. Stone and Owen J. Roberts are additional presidential "possibilities" whose names are mentioned with no note of genuine conviction. For one thing, no practical politician has any notion that either would accept. Neither one could win, anyway; that also is conceded.

Still last is Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes referred to otherwise than purely theoretically—too old, plus many other disqualifications.

It is surprising how many Republicans, asked who would be the best 1936 G. O. P. presidential nominee, answer: "Al Smith."

NEW MEDICC ADDED TO CITY'S STAFF

Today Circleville has added to its medical staff an osteopathic physician and surgeon in the person of Dr. P. C. Rontzahn, who has established his offices and laboratory in the Crist building, 129 1/2 W. Main-st over Grant's store.

Dr. Rontzahn comes here highly recommended and has a background of training and experience which fully qualifies him for his chosen profession.

He received his pre-medical training at Wittenberg college and the University of Dayton. He graduated from the Des Moines Still college of Osteopathy and completed his internship at the Des Moines, Iowa, in 1932.

The year following he was associated with Dr. George Winslow of Portland, Maine, who ranks as one of the foremost proctologists in the New England states. Dr. Rontzahn uses the same Ambulac method of treatment as Dr. Winslow, which enables the patient to continue his daily activities without confinement or inconvenience while receiving treatment for rectal disorders.

Furthering his experience, he then became associated with Dr. C. O. Sites of Hillsboro, ear, eye, nose and throat specialist, and assisted Dr. Sites with head and throat surgery while conducting a general practice for a period of two years.

Dr. Rontzahn has made a special study of foot orthopedics and will give special attention to all foot and rectal conditions as well as conduct a general osteopathic practice here.

THIRD KILLED IN PLANE ACCIDENT

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—A third man died today from hurts received in a plane crash over the Stinson airport near La Grange yesterday. He was Dickson Webb, 32, Berwyn flying instructor.

Witnesses declared Webb banked sharply after a power dive, jamming a wing of his plane with another flown by John G. Harvey, 36, of Glencoe, only 100 feet above the field.

Harvey and Kermit Hobbs, 30, instructor at the airport, who was with him, died shortly after the crash of the loaded planes.

Frank Krieger is still in a critical condition. He was taking a lesson from Webb.

dates include A. J. Lyle, Harry Phebus, E. C. Fricke, Will J. Graham, and E. E. Smith. Where the land lies is beyond the guesses of the city's best Republican leaders. Who the Republican leaders favor is not even being hinted. Naturally they want their strongest candidate nominated since a big effort will be made this fall to elect a G. O. P. mayor.

Others Quiet, too

The candidates for the other city offices have been unusually quiet but are expected to break loose during the next week.

No activity has yet been noted in the villages of the county where candidates must file petitions with the board of elections not later than Sept. 13. Bernard Young of Pickaway-twp. and C. Everett Dick of Monroe-twp. will be up for re-election to positions on the county school board, where splendid harmony has been reigning for the past couple of years.

The terms of Charles H. May and C. R. Baughart on the city board expire and they, too, are expected to be in the race. Robert G. Colville, who becomes treasurer the first of September, will not be a candidate for re-election and Rev. L. C. Sherburne has filed his petition for the school board berth.

A number of trustees are to run and so are township board of education officials.

The quietness of the campaign is shown in the fact that the number of absent voters' ballots sent to the board of elections office is far below par for a primary.

5 CRIMINALS

Verona, Mo., used a sharpened file on cow two attendants, McCarrick took keys from one of the guards and liberated the five other prisoners.

When Attendant Scott Humphries appeared he was held at bay and the two were later locked up by the escaping convicts as they made their break.

The criminals who made the break in addition to St. John, and McCarrick were: William Smith, of St. Louis, 35, who is serving life for robbery; Edward Marum, St. Louis, 26, doing ten years for robbery; George R. Rogers, 55, sentenced to eight years for burglary; and Oliver Hamilton, 35, another killer.

Sheriff's deputies and members of the Missouri state highway patrol are cooperating in the search for the escaped insane criminals. The officers have orders to shoot at the first sign of resistance.

CORN-HOG CHECKS DUE IN TWO WEEKS

Although farmers in a number of counties in this section of Ohio have received their first payment on 1935 corn-hog contracts payments in Pickaway-co may not be received for about two weeks.

WATER WARNING ISSUED BY BEALE

Because of recent high water and continued hot weather, Dr. C. C. Beale, county health officer, has issued a warning against the use of water in rural sections that has not been boiled, especially in the Williamsport district where there is no sanitary sewer system.

Local physicians have listed a number of suggestions for heat sufferers. They have warned persons not to exert themselves, not to drink quantities of exceedingly cold liquids, eat plain foods and not overeat, dress coolly but not encourage colds, avoid draughts and exert caution in the use of electric fans.

ONE MAN SUCCESSFULLY EVADES "G-MEN", ROBINSON, MANIAC STOLL ABDUCTOR

His Case Remains
Unsolved Puzzle
to Government

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The man who kidnaped Mrs. Berry V. Stoll, Louisville society matron, was crazy.

A few months before the crime he had been judged mentally unbalanced but today, nine months after the crime, he remains the only major kidnaper who has escaped the vigil of the nation's G-men.

The kidnaper is Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., late of Nashville, Tenn. The government agents know his name. They have his picture. They have everything in hand except Robinson. He remains at large. His case remains a mighty puzzle to the federal operatives and the police of the nation.

Ransom Paid

Robinson dropped from sight in Indianapolis when the $50,000 ransom was paid by Mrs. Stoll's husband, wealthy Louisville oil man. And he has remained out of sight as far as federal agents are concerned.

The vigil of the government has been kept constant. A close check has been kept for the marked ransom bills and here is another puzzle. Robinson collected and fled with $50,000 in marked money. Now, nine months after he started juggling the law, only $520 of this marked money has turned up.

How the kidnaper is living is as much of a puzzle as how a crazy man, working single handed, could outwit the far-flung forces of the department of justice.

G-men hold their tongues. There has been no official comment on the Robinson hunt except brief statements from time to time that it still is in progress.

Widespread Search

Unofficial sources have revealed that the search has extended from the east coast to the west, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border and beyond.

At one time, a few months ago, a mighty net was set up to trap Robinson in California, when it was rumored that he was preparing to flee the country on a boat from some California port. Nothing came of this.

At another time the hunt extended outside the boundaries of the United States when a hotel proprietor in Ontario reported he had recognized a guest as closely resembling Robinson. This clue also failed.

For some weeks the hunt was concentrated in the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Reports there was that Robinson was living in Minneapolis, that he had applied at a hospital for medical attention and had fled before seeing a doctor. A nurse who interviewed the prospective patient swore he was the kidnaper of Mrs. Stoll.

In Tennessee

Another hot tip—hot at the time—came from motorists in Tennessee who said they believed a hitch-hiker who had thumbed ride with them was Robinson.

This tip, and all of the others before and after, blew up. Robinson, the crazy kidnaper, continued to keep out of the reach of the law.

The Stoll kidnapping, for which Robinson still is hunted, was one of the strangest on record. The Louisville society leader, Junior league officer and Bryn Mawr alumnus, was snatched from her home in an exclusive section of Louisville after having been beaten.

A rambling ransom note was found on the lawn of the Stoll estate. It indicated that Mrs. Stoll's husband and not Mrs. Stoll had been marked by the kidnaper. The note demanded $50,000 and threatened the worst if the money was not paid.

Flees With Victim
As he dragged Mrs. Stoll, clad only in a negligee and fur coat, from her home, the kidnaper was accosted by a maid. He beat her brutally and tied her to a chair. Then he fled with his victim.

The Stoll abduction alarm started a mighty hunt for the victim and her kidnaper but, after several days, police dropped their vigil so that Stoll could negotiate directly with his kidnaper.

Suspicion first was attached to Robinson when notes to Stoll advised him that either Thomas H. Robinson, Sr., of Nashville, or Mrs. Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., was to be the intermediary. Then the call went out to get Robinson. Stoll begged police to keep out. He wanted to pay the $50,000. He wanted his wife back and he feared she would die if left in the hands of her abductor.

Traced to Indianapolis
Six days after the kidnapping the big break came. Federal agents trailed Mrs. Robinson to Indianapolis, they lost track of her for a few hours, then learned she had driven out of the city.

The agents were hot on her trail. They caught up with the machine at Scottsburg, Ind., near the Ohio river. Mrs. Robinson was inside. And so was Mrs. Stoll. Two other occupants were the Rev. Arnold Clegg and his wife of Indianapolis. Robinson was gone. In the few hours Mrs. Robinson had been out of the agents' sight he had collected the ransom and fled.

Mrs. Robinson told a strange story—but a story which Mrs. Stoll supported. She declared she had been a party to the crime only after it had been committed and that she had co-operated with her husband in his mad scheme so that he would not kill Mrs. Stoll. She told of many threats against her own life if she ever told on him.

Wife Feared Husband
Taken to jail in Louisville, Mrs. Robinson removed a knife with a three-inch blade from her purse. She said she had been carrying it to protect herself and Mrs. Stoll. The Cleggs cleared up their position in the case by explaining that Mrs. Robinson had brought Mrs. Stoll to their home and asked them to drive to Louisville to return her to her home and family.

Mrs. Robinson said she knew her husband was a maniac. She feared the worst after he executed his mad kidnapping plot.

She said she believed she had kept him from murder.

Mrs. Robinson and her father-in-law were indicted as accessories in the crime. But the law never has been able to lay a finger on the real abductor.

Sent to Asylum
Robinson's unbalanced mental state was revealed during an examination in Nashville after his arrest there in a $60,000 jewel robbery. His sentence was 30 days' observation in a Tennessee insane asylum.

A short time prior to the Stoll abduction, Robinson drove a Nashville woman into the country, stripped her of her jewels and attempted to attack her. He was being sought on an abduction warrant at the time of the Stoll kidnapping.

JAPAN TO ARM ABYSSINNIANS IF ITALIANS FIGHT

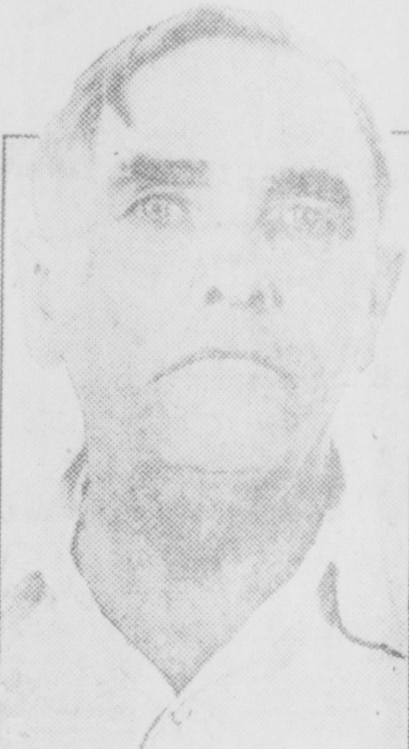

CONTRACT FOR SUPPLY AIRED

Believe Britain May Remove Ban if Peace Efforts Fail; Eden Censured.

LONDON, Aug. 5—Japan has agreed to supply arms to Abyssinia, and a contract for a huge order has already been placed. This sensational development in the "Holy war" with all the colored races lined up on the side of Ethiopia against Italy, was reported today in an Exchange telegraph message from Addis Ababa. The Abyssinian government, according to Exchange, signed a contract Friday for Japan to supply "a very large consignment" of arms and ammunition intended to accelerate modernization of the Ethiopian army. Arrangements have almost been completed, the dispatch added, for the sending of a Japanese military and commercial mission to Abyssinia. Japanese patriotic societies, public, and newspapers have shown decided favoritism for Abyssinia in the present quarrel, especially in view of Japan's trade expansion in Africa, and recent assurances by Japanese diplomats aboard that Japan would not interfere brought the official response in Tokyo that Japan could not guarantee to remain aloof. Favor Africans At that time it was said no arms were being shipped to Abyssinia, but the government refused to promise not to lift the embargo in the future. There was also believed to be considerable likelihood that Britain will remove her ban on arms shipments if present peace efforts fail as seems probable. Returning from the session of the League of Nations council at Geneva, Capt. Anthony Eden, spent the August bank holiday today at the home of Sir Philip Sassoon near Ilythe preparing a full report to be given to Premier Stanley Baldwin and Foreign Minister Sir Samuel Hoare tomorrow and to other members of the cabinet later in the week. Meanwhile London hastened to calm Rome's ruffled feelings by declaring that Capt. Eden's broadcast statement: "The negotiations must succeed, or else the council will have to discharge the obligations placed on it under the (League) covenant," was not intended as a veiled threat against Italy, but merely as an academic re-statement of the situation. Too Dangerous There was, however, much criticism heaped on Capt. Eden in some British circles for his attitude, which could be interpreted as binding Britain still closer to possible dangerous league sanctions.

4 Years in Baby Case

Peter Nellesen

Arrested in a raid on a "baby farm" in St. Paul, Minn., Peter Nellesen, above, 61-year-old laborer and "doctor," admitted, according to police, he had performed 1,000 illegal operations over a period of 40 years. Two of his alleged victims were in a St. Paul hospital suffering from blood poisoning. After pleading guilty, Nellesen was sentenced to four years in prison.

Elevator Construction To Prove of Interest

Residents who wish to see a unique type of work seldom seen in this vicinity should visit the Ralston-Purina Co. this week and view the construction of the new elevator. Concrete pouring on the foundation which is about 80 feet square and 12 feet deep was started today. For the construction of the storage bins a sliding form is used. This form is the size of the building, 42 by 70 feet, and 42 inches high. The elevator will consist of eight round bins 14 feet, six inches in diameter with intermediate bins between each tube on the outside—inside making a total of 30 bins. There will be a basement twelve feet high under the elevator with machinery for unloading bins and a gallery on top with machinery for filling bins. The form used for concrete pouring is raised by means of lift jacks on iron rods. Seventy-five rods and jacks will be used on the form and as the pouring progresses more rods are added. The pouring is continuous, rain or shine, as the concrete is never allowed to set before more is added. The elevator will tower 150 feet and the concrete pouring will continue six weeks. A high wood scaffold is used to raise carriers of concrete to the pouring level where it is dumped into a hopper and workmen distributed in the form. Fifty workmen are employed on the work, according to J. H. Duffy, superintendent in charge of the work for the Jones-Hettelater Construction Co., Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Duffy explained that during the pouring process the form is raised about 6 to 7 feet in ten hours. The elevator will have a capacity of 150,000 bushels of grain and will require 3000 barrels of cement for construction.

Fayette-Co Plans September Festival

WASHINGTON C. H., Aug. 5—A Fayette-co fall festival centered around agricultural exhibits will be held in this city Sept. 25-28, under plans being prepared by the Civic association. Exhibits will be displayed by Granges Farm bureau and 4-H clubs. Plans are also being prepared for an auto and farm implement show.

NEGRO RELEASED AFTER GRILLING

George Williams, colored, Amherst, W. Va., held by local police Saturday for investigation in connection with a holdup in Chillicothe, was released after police cleared him of any connection with the crime. Williams was taken off a freight train by police following a report that C. A. Welch, Chillicothe operator on the N. & W. railroad, had been held up and robbed of $12.50 by two negroes. He was taken to Chillicothe Saturday by Police Chief William McCrady. Williams returned as far as Dorney station with McCrady and then boarded a freight train north.

CONQUERING LION OF JUDAH

An excellent new portrait of Haile Selassie offers a study of the emperor of Ethiopia, "conquering lion of Judah", and descendant of the Queen of Sheba. The emperor says his country is prepared to resist invasion by Italy, and he will lead his troops.

MT. STERLING SETS FESTIVAL AUG. 11-15

Residents of Mt. Sterling will hold their ninth annual Homecoming and fish fry on the village streets Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 14 and 15. The Madison Mills band will play on Wednesday and the Ashville band will journey to the city for the program Thursday. Dances will be held both days. Attractions include a high dive, wire walking and tumbling acts, fiddlers contest on Wednesday, baby show on Thursday, and other contests. There will also be rides and concessions.

HITLER'S AIDES OPEN DRIVE ON TRIO OF "FOES"

Berlin Centers Attacks on Catholics; Provinces
Harassing Jews

DEPUTY CONDEMNED

"Racial Discharge"
Charged to Many Others

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—The Nazi reich today launched a new drive against Catholics, Protestants, Jews, and "reactionaries" along a nation-wide front, opening Nazism's big guns with a new outburst of fire which had been ominously awaited for several days.

Carrying out threats made openly by Nazi leaders in week-end speeches throughout the nation, a new and violent wave of anti-Semitism swept the country, being particularly strong in the provinces.

In Berlin Catholics served as the chief target of the Nazi fire.

Keeping step with party leaders' repressive measures, the dread People's court, Nazism's "star chamber" tribunal, in Berlin sentenced a former Communist, Adolf Reichstag deputy to death for "high treason"—"high treason" in this case being an attempt to liquid Communist cells in middle Germany.

Four Others in Prison

The defendant was Albert Kaysner, 36, of Berlin. Four others were sentenced to penitentiary terms on similar charges. There is no appeal from decisions of the People's court.

Following up the threat made by propaganda minister, Paul Joseph Goebbels, in a speech yesterday reported well throughout the country—a threat against Nazi foes that a "spring cleaning" was imminent—Nazis of Goebbels' own Berlin district plastered all Berlin with huge red posters urging the nation to frustrate alleged "provocations" of Catholics.

The nationwide drive against Jews was particularly vigorous. Its scope is reflected in the following dispatches from the provinces:

BRESLAU.—The state police announced four Jews and four "Aryan" girls have been sent to concentration camps for "racial disprace"—Nazis' term for association of Jews and "Aryans."

LIEGNITZ.—Seven Jews and Continued On Page Five

BERRCIN STRIKES AT HIS OPPONENTS

COLUMBUS, Aug. 5.—Henry J. Berrudin, state director, aid for aged bureau, today smashed back at his critics in Summit-co who accused him of playing politics and which ultimately led to the resignation of John A. Botzinn, chairman, Summit-co Aid for the Aged Board, Saturday.

Berrudin emphatically denied that he was playing politics and said that the Summit-co board was not functioning as efficiently as other county boards the same size.

FAYETTE STUDIES COUNTY HOSPITAL

WASHINGTON C. H., Aug. 5.—County officials and interested business men of Fayette-co are compiling data obtained from hospitals in other cities near Washington C. H. on operating costs in their drive to obtain a local hospital.

It is hoped a county hospital to be operated in conjunction with the county home can be approved through the WPA. The institution would cost between $50,000 and $75,000.

G.O.P. Begins to Speculate on Candidate; Names That Head the List in Capital

By Charles Stewart.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—There is one man with whom the Republicans believe they might be able to win, as their presidential candidate for 1936—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.

But they do not believe Senator Borah is available. He is too old. Already he is past 70. Even if chosen, they doubt that he would accept the nomination.

Next after Borah, they speak of Frank O. Lowden as potentially a strong candidate, but he is more than three years older than Borah.

The candidate they are afraid of is Herbert Hoover. If, at the last minute, he signifies a desire to run again, they scarcely see how they can refuse to name him, and, of all individuals, they consider that he would be the surest to be beaten.

Wish for Borah
I have talked recently with the majority of Republicans of any prominence in congress.

Oh, how they wish they could run Borah for the White House next year!

Oh, how fearful they are of Hoover!

Since they probably cannot have Borah, and if they succeed in side-stepping Hoover, the consensus, as the present writing, unmistakably is that the party's best '36 bet is Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

This judgment, however, is subject to certain reservations. Vandenberg's political associates like him. They recognize his honesty and ability, and agree that he is an excellent campaigner. They also admit, confidentially, that they have no idea that the G. O. P. could win with him. Naturally they would prefer a candidate who, they guess, would "stand a chance."

Landon of Kansas
Such a possibility, increasingly discussed, is Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

Landon is not yet nationally much advertised, but he is beginning to be. Notably he appears to have given the Sunflower state an admirably economical administration—an excellent record to back up a platform which must "view with alarm" enormous expenditures of the Roosevelt regime.

Following Landon, I would put Comptroller General John Raymond McCarr next, as a potentiality.

Even more than Landon, he is an unknown quantity from the standpoint of national publicity. Continued On Page Five

RICHARD E. MYERS DIES IN COLUMBUS

Richard E. Myers, 62, a Columbus florist, well known in this city, died Saturday at 10:10 p. m. at his home, 670 Weyant-ave., following a week's illness.

His widow, the former Sophia Siegwald of this city, is his only survivor.

Funeral services will be held in Grace Lutheran church, Oakwood-ave., Columbus, Tuesday at 2 p. m. with Rev. Ellis Snyder officiating. The deceased was treasurer of the church for the past 11 years.

Masonic services will be conducted tonight by the Ralph E. Rickly Chapter of which he was a member.

Burial will be about 3:30 p. m. Tuesday in Forest cemetery.

Largest Mortgage

LANCASTER, Aug. 5.—The largest mortgage ever to be recorded in Fairfield-co is being placed into the record books by County Recorder Clifton Parks.

The figure represented in the paper is $25,000.00. The Bankers Trust Co., of Ohio, has taken the mortgage for this huge sum from the Toledo and Ohio Central railway.

The sum is placed "on account" by the railroad firm and will be used for maintenance and improvements. Cost of filing the mortgage will be about $50.

PRIMARY AUGUST 13

Eight in Contest for Mayor Nominations

Circleville is only eight days away from another primary election but interest in the balloting has not yet reached that fever pitch which usually precedes such an election.

The many candidates for the city offices have been waging quiet campaigns, handing out cards here and there, and getting in the right words to the right persons in an effort to build up their strength.

Contests on both tickets for mayor will naturally draw a number of persons to the polls August 13. There are three candidates for the Democratic nomination and five for the Republican toga.

State Platforms

All three of the Democrats, Mayor W. B. Cady, seeking his second term; D. Adrian Yates and Raymond H. Smith, have in public statements announced their platforms. Each platform is very exacting and should either be nominated and elected the city would be certain to enjoy great success in at least the next two years—providing the platforms could be followed as outlined.

A real contest is found on the G. O. P. side of the state. Candi- Continued On Page Five

MRS. STEBBINS, 80, NATIVE HERE, DIES

Sister of Drs. E. J. and R. F.
Lilly Succumbs; Funeral Services Tuesday.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 3 p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. H. Legg, 144 W. Woodruff-ave., Columbus, for Mrs. Frances Stebbins, aged 80, wife of Charles F. Stebbins, who died at 9:50 p. m. Saturday of organic heart disease after a five weeks' illness.

Burial will be in Forest cemetery by the W. H. Albaugh Co.

Mrs. Stebbins was a Circleville native being born April 2, 1855, a daughter of Dr. William and Mary Ellen Robbins Lilly. She resided here until her marriage April 23, 1879, at which time she removed to Columbus.

She is survived by her husband; two children, Mrs. Helen Legg of Columbus, and Mrs. Genevieve Graves of Dayton; four grandchildren; two brothers, Drs. E. J. Lilly and R. F. Lilly of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Ellen Terwilliger of Tucson, Arizona.

Mrs. Stebbins was a member of the Methodist church. Pall bearers will include E. F. Kepke, J. E. Graves, Richard Graves, Fred W. Legg, H. Pearl Legg, and Arthur Cornelius.

MAY ASK COUNTY TO MOVE "POUND"

The Pickaway-co commissioners will be asked to remove the dog pound from its present location near the Scioto river bridge, according to reports circulated Monday.

Numerous complaints have been made to highway officials by motorists about the stench from the pound. It is also contended the pound is a nuisance at its present location along the edge of the highway.

The commissioners spent Monday morning approving county bills.

ZENGE IN COURT

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Mandeville Zenge appeared in the criminal court this morning on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by his attorney.

Police said that they would charge him with the mutilation of Dr. Walter J. Bauer if Judge Cornelius Harrington declined to allow them to hold him for further questioning.

Antioch Student to Stay With Sideshow

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Anne Sibley is free, white, and twenty-one and she doesn't think its a bit strange to prefer the atmosphere of a musty Coney island sideshow to the cloistered halls of Antioch college in Yellow Springs, O.

Anne, daughter of Joseph C. Sibley, a Chicago lawyer, was back at her job as a performer today in the sideshow in which she was found on Saturday after a month's search on the part of her parents. Moreover that's where she's going to stay, she says.

IMLER STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Salesman Stunned as Bolt
Damages His Property;
Phone Circuits Hit.

Russell Imler, salesman for the Southern Ohio Electric Co., was stunned by lightning Saturday evening when a bolt struck the chimney on his residence and traveled through the house damaging electrical and plumbing fixtures.

Mr. Imler was standing at a kitchen window in the rear of his home when the flash came and he said for an instant he could not understand what had happened. Shortly afterward he felt a stinging feeling in the right side of his face and examination showed it was swollen and red. A large part of the swelling had left his face Monday but a small bump remained a fraction of an inch from his right ear where the electricity hit him.

Son, 11, Uninjured
Jack, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Imler, was standing just back of his father when the bolt struck but was unhurt. Mrs. Imler was in the dining room at the time.

Several light fixtures in the house were damaged and in one room plastering was torn out from around a wall switch. The lightning apparently was grounded from the light circuit in the bathroom as a black streak was burned through the wallpaper where it jumped from a light fixture to a shower with bath rod. The rod was pitted with tiny holes.

Bricks were torn from the chimney and Mrs. Imler had to immediately start housecleaning as soot from the chimney was blown over about every room in the residence.

Toll Circuits 'Out'

Toll circuits between Circleville, Williamsport, Ashville and Laurelville was out for a short time after the storm but were quickly repaired by telephone company linemen. No serious damage to electrical equipment was reported by either the light or telephone companies.

Saturday's storm followed three days of sweltering weather during which the temperature hung at the 90-degree mark every afternoon. Dr. H. R. Clarke, local weatherman, reported the rainfall was approximately one inch. Practically all streams in the county were swollen Saturday night but none went out of bank.

VARIOUS CHARGES IN POLICE COURTS

Six persons were arrested in Circleville over the week-end on intoxication charges.

Marshall Shisler, W. Main-st., was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Cady and committed to the Cincinnati workhouse. Frank Rogers, Circleville, was committed to the county jail to serve out a fine of $10 and costs. Edward Rutter, Woodman-ave., and Don Myers of Portsmouth, were released by Mayor Cady after receiving licenses. Robert Wright, 35, New Holland, posted bond to appear before Judge Johnson, 27, of Coalition, O., charged to have a hearing before Judge H. O. Eveland, justice of peace, today on a charge of driving an auto while intoxicated.

Johnson was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Bob Armstrong Sunday night on N. Court-st.

Alton Cain, Circleville, posted $5 bond to appear before Mayor Cady for a traffic violation resulting from parking his car in a down town alley Saturday.

Auto, Truck Hit; Plan Rites Here

Widely-Known Educator and Wife, Enroute to Home in Seattle After Visit Here, Victims of Accident; Leave Three Grown Children; Funeral at Orion King Residence.

Ralph R. Upton, 66, of Seattle, Wash., former principal at Evert's high school, and his wife, Mrs. Anna Upton, 59, former Circleville resident, were killed Saturday night in a truck-auto crash three miles east of Wanatah, Ind.

Mr. Upton, the man who devised the nation-wide safety slogan "Stop, Look and Listen" was killed outright in the crash. Death was caused from a fractured skull.

Mrs. Upton died several hours after the accident in Holy Family hospital, La Porte, Ind., of head injuries.

Their bodies will be returned to Circleville by train Tuesday at 11:40 a. m.

The double funeral will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. at the Orion King home, W. High-st.

Rev. W. Newton Mantle of Mt. Sterling will officiate with burial in the Millar family lot in Forest cemetery by Mader & Ebert.

The Upton car collided with a truck on U. S. Route 30. Clifton Robinson, negro, Montpelier, Ind., told La Porte-co authorities his brakes jammed causing the crash. He was released after brief questioning.

In City For Month
Mr. and Mrs. Upton left Circleville Saturday morning after spending a month with Mr. and Mrs. King during which they visited with friends and relatives and were guests at numerous social events. It was their first trip to this city in twelve years.

On their return trip the couple planned to visit Yellowstone National park and upon leaving said their first stop would be Michigan City. They were but a short distance from that city when the accident occurred. They left their home June 17 and on their journey to Ohio had stopped in many states to visit friends. While here Mr. Upton made a brief trip to New York state for a visit.

Organized Cadets
Mr. Upton was principal of the old Evert's high school here for two years, 1896 and 1897. He was well-liked and was the founder of the Circleville Cadets, a military organization that existed here for many years.

Nine graduates of the class of 1900 met last Friday evening and visited with Mr. Upton at the King residence to recall old experiences at Evert's high school.

While teaching here Mr. Upton met Miss Anna Millar whom he later married on June 9, 1898. The couple left Circleville soon after their marriage when Mr. Upton accepted a teaching position in the Chillicothe high school. He was in Chillicothe but a short time when he accepted another teaching position in Streeter, Ill., where he was a member of the high school faculty for 10 years.

Before moving to Seattle 24 years ago, Mr. Upton purchased a newspaper in Middletown, O., but stayed there only a short time.

Graduate of Yale
Mr. Upton was born Jan. 12, 1869 and was a graduate of the Yale school of law. He practiced law several years in Washington before coming east and entering educational work. Mr. Upton was the last member of the Upton family.

Mrs. Upton was the daughter of the late Michael C. and Sarah Hickman Millar of South Bloomfield. She was born Jan. 14, 1876, and was a graduate of Evert's high school.

The couple is survived by three children: Charles M. Upton, employee of a Seattle newspaper; Marietta Upton, continuity writer for a Seattle radio station; Ralph W. Upton, Seattle, credit manager for a wholesale grocery establishment, and one grandchild, William Upton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Upton.

Mrs. Upton is survived by one sister, Mrs. Orion King, Circleville, and a brother, Michael S. Millar of Ashville.

Mrs. King was notified of the accident shortly after midnight Saturday and left at once for the Indiana city with Paul Cronley, Ashville, a son-in-law of Mr. Millar. They returned early Monday after making arrangements to have the bodies brought here.

Will Names Widow
The will of John W. Creighton, late Perry-twp farmer, admitted to probate Saturday, leaves his estate to his widow, Mrs. Annie Creighton and names her executrix. The will was dated July 24, 1911.

LAURELVILLE HIT BY HEAVY STORM

Heavy damage to farm crops and electrical equipment in the Laurelville district was caused by Saturday's storm.

The local telephone company reported about 50 poles down on rural roads and numerous wires broken by falling tree limbs. About 150 telephones were out of commission in the district Saturday night. Linemen worked Sunday clearing the lines and resetting poles.

The high wind overturned a gasoline pump shelter at the garage of C. J. Hinton, Fariton, and heavy corn was broken and flattened in the section between Laurelville and Fariton.

The Southern Ohio Electric company reported no heavy damage from the storm.

To Sell Notes Against Anticipated School Aid

The Williamsport board of education has filed a resolution with the county auditor to sell notes in anticipation of an allotment of $7,998 from the state department of education as state aid for the past school year.

The allotment will clear up the balance sheet for the last term of school. Scioto-twp school has been granted $7,200 state aid.

FRES FLOCK GOLF CLUB FOR TOURNEYS

Many Mader Beaten in Up-
2-Ball Foursome Attracts Many Golfers.

The Pickaway Country club ended the greatest day since its inception Sunday when the golf course was busy from 8 a. m. till dusk, the tennis courts were a scene of activity throughout the day, and many persons enjoyed social gatherings in the clubhouse and about the spacious grounds.

The elimination matches for the golf championship, the two-ball foursome in the afternoon and the tennis matches with scores of persons to the spectators.

One of the surprise matches of the day, John D. Bragg, steady consistent golfer, eliminated many Mader from the championship, 2 up and 1 to go.

Bragg's dogged determination won him the match when Mader failed to take a six on No. 6 and he putted No. 17 after driving green.

Black Has Battle
Jewey C. Black, defending champion, won his first match, though forced to No. 17 before defeated Tom O. Gilliland, 2 up 1 to go.

John Geib eliminated C. R. Nathan 2 up in the championship class winning the last two holes after the match was square.

Putting to No. 17, Geib sang a putt on No. 17 to break the block.

Hanson turned the tables on C. T. Gilmore, greens committee chairman, to win 3 up and 1 to go. Gilmore a year ago defeated Hanson.

Frank S. Marion's recent fine were to no avail as he fell before the wizardry of Dr. G. D. Phillips who won 3 up and 1 to go.

Tourney Big Success
The 2-ball mixed Scotch foursome was won by Mrs. Ned Groom and John Bragg with 44. Runners were Mrs. Dewey Black and Evans with 46. Mrs. Paul Adair and Lent Hanson had 47 and Charlotte Bell and Enilson a 50. Other scores were: Bragg and Paul Adkins, 51; Hanson and Dewey Black, 51; Workman and Mrs. White, 51; White and Miss May, 51; and Mrs. Copeland, and Mrs. Rowland to turn in their cards.

John Bragg pulled the best of the day when he took off his shoes and socks on No. 9 and played a shot from the teak.

The Scotch tournament was one of the greatest successes ever attempted at the club and it is to say there will be more here the year has reached its apex.

The usual twilight tournament was held Tuesday at 6 p. m. The "Fussy Foursome" has challenged to a match for Wednesday, but Hobson is not planning the challenges.

Schmidt Calls 55 Grid Stars
COLUMBUS, Aug. 5.—The loud voice of Football Coach A. Schmidt of Ohio State sounded through the state today as he warned 55 Buckeye grid candidates to "get in shape" before they report here Sept. 10, the date for fall practice.

The 55 Buckeye players, recipients of invitations to participate in pre-season drills, are expected to appear at Ohio State ready for most anything.

Schmidt doesn't believe in "athletic" drills to toughen the team. That's what summer vacation is for, he says.

Scrimmage First Day
During the 1934 season, Schmidt's first at Ohio State, the grid candidates were all jolted from their slumber when he ordered a heavy "scrimmage" the first day.

A wealth of seasoned material is on hand to greet Schmidt approximately 18 lettersmen are expected to make an appearance. About one-half of those receiving invitations are players who starred with the Ohio frosh last fall.

Cleveland Star Is Seriously Ill

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 5.—An injury and accident jinx which has harassed the Cleveland Indians since the beginning of the season today continued to shadow the club. It can be blamed in part for the resignation of Walter Johnson as manager of the tribe.

The latest mishap to befall the Indians was the serious illness of Bruce Campbell, right fielder acquired by the Indians from the St. Louis Browns, who yesterday was taken to Harper hospital here with cerebro spinal fever.

Campbell played for eight innings against the Detroit Tigers in the first game of a double header and then asked to be relieved because he "didn't feel well."

Yesterday he awoke with a severe chill and complained to his roommate, Lloyd Brown, left handed pitcher. Taken to Harper hospital, his illness was diagnosed and he was immediately put to bed and anti-meningococcus serum treatments were given.

Physicians said he has a fifty-fifty chance to live, but stated he would be out the rest of the season, if not permanently. The ailment, they said, is a mild form of cerebral meningitis and often ends fatally. It is not contagious, however, and other Cleveland players will not be isolated.

JOHNSON OUT, O'NEILL IN AS INDIAN LEADER

Big Train Resigns After Cleveland Loses 3 Straight Games to Tigers.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 5.—Walter Johnson, the "big train" of baseball, was through as manager of the Cleveland Indians today, his departure hastened from the club's berth by the fact that the Detroit Tigers beat his team three in a row here.

Steve O'Neill, former catcher for the Indians and assistant to Johnson, was elevated to the manager-ship.

Johnson, according to Alva Bradley, president of the club, will remain with the Indians as a scout, passing on the ability of young players in Indian farms throughout the country.

His resignation as manager was voluntary, Bradley said. It was announced as the Indians returned to Cleveland from their disastrous Detroit series.

Confers an Hour
Johnson, upon his arrival in the Ohio city, was called into an hour's conference with Bradley and then came the announcement he was through.

It was not unexpected, after a conference with Bradley here Friday, Johnson had asked newspaper reporters "what are you fellows going to write about after I go back to the farm?"

His resignation said: "After several conferences with the owners of the club I suggested to them that a change in managers might remove the pressure which I think some of our young players are under."

"Injuries and sickness have been a great handicap this year but the boys have made a good fight under adverse conditions and this young club some day will make a great team."

"I have told Mr. Bradley of my desire to step out. He has accepted my resignation, but has requested that the thorough check I have made of the progress of the young men on the team be made the property of the club. This I have agreed to do."

Johnson wished O'Neill the "best of luck."

ADAMS KILLS HAWK

James Adams, son-in-law of Mrs. C. H. Duntun, will have a beautiful mounted specimen of a giant fish hawk to show his friends when he returns from his vacation in West Virginia. A clipping from a West Virginia newspaper received here says the following:

A fish hawk, wing spread five feet six inches, was killed by Mr. James H. Adams of Huntington Saturday afternoon on the Midland trail near Calagah.

Mr. Adams had stopped his car at a service station when he saw the fish hawk hovering over a nearby stream. He borrowed a shotgun from the service station and as the big bird flew to a dead tree limb he shot it.

"His aim was true and the hawk fell from the tree hanging there for a second by one great talon."

"Mr. Adams will have the big bird mounted as it is a beautiful specimen and this type of hawk is rarely seen."

For Two Reasons

Walter Johnson's end was seen early in the season—Two reasons are foremost: his team is not in first place, and he fired Bill Kamm and Glenn Myatt, for which the Indian fans could never forgive him. The fact that his team has been riddled by injuries is not taken into consideration when the failure to lead the league is recounted.

BLADES' STALLING

The act of Ray Blades' men in stalling at Minneapolis is lauded highly in some of the Columbus news sheets. If some other manager had tried that in Columbus they would never have quit roasting him.

FOUR ARE BUNCHED

The result of the coaches' contest for the all-star team Aug. 29 is not yet certain. Charlie Bachman, Frank Thomas, Bo McMillen and Slip Madigan are bunched.

live up to pre-season predictions. Sports writers and even Johnson himself had forecast they would be league champions. When they failed, the fans began clamoring for Johnson's scalp.

Even then the day of reckoning might have been postponed had the Indians made a clean sweep of the Tigers series here. Instead, they lost both games of a double header Saturday and dropped the third game, 7 to 0, to Detroit yesterday.

Detroit thus became the "jinx" town for Johnson. It was here 28 years ago last Friday that he pitched his first major league ball game for the Washington Senators. He lost. It also was in Detroit that he ended his days as a pitcher.

Johnson, who burned up the American league in his hey-day with "the fastest ball ever thrown" was discovered while pitching for a semi-pro team in Idaho and made the jump directly into the big leagues. Later he became the hero of the 1934 world series.

He became manager of the Newark club of the International league in 1927, and then manager of the Washington Senators for four years. He retired from baseball for a half year but left his farm to become manager of the Indians on June 10, 1933. The Indians finished fourth that year and third in 1934. They are in fifth place now.

An injury jinx shadowed the team throughout the season and Johnson with a shrug said: "Well, I'm manager, ain't I? I might as well take the blame for that, too."

DEFENBAUGH HITS GOOD FISH LUCK

Ivan Defenbaugh, senior announcer on the state highway patrol and a former Pickaway-co resident, reported catching a nice string of bass last week in the Olentangy river near the Delaware-co line.

Defenbaugh took five small-mouthed bass out of the river in 30 minutes using soft craws. He fished "pot holes" along the river.

Royal Castle Too Costly

DRESDEN.—Sibyllenort Castle in Silesia, which used to be the hunting box of the house of Wettin, the former rulers of Saxony, has been offered to the German army by Prince Christian of Saxony. The upkeep of the huge castle is too expensive for its present owners. The English royal family is of the House of Wettin.

RACQUET CLUB TAKES MATCH

Defeats Country Club Four Matches To Three Sunday Afternoon.

The Circleville Racquet club defeated the Pickaway Country club four matches to three in an interesting tennis tournament on the country club court Sunday afternoon. The matches were witnessed by a large and interested crowd.

The matches resulted as follows:

Men's singles: John Mason, Country club, won 6-1 from Nathan Groban of the Racquet club, and Mowry, Racquet club, copped 6 to 3 from Tom Brunner, Country club.

Men's doubles: Don Henry and Otis Mader, Racquet club, were victors over Bishop Given and William Radcliff, Country club, 6-0.

Mixed doubles: Jim Reichelderfer and Doris Moffitt, Racquet club, took William Radcliff and Charlotte Bell, Country club, 6 to 4 in the day's thriller. Otis and Marjorie Mader, Racquet club, defeated Fred Grant and Martha Mader, Country club, 6 to 0.

Country club, won 6 to 1 over Nathan Groban and Jane Littleton, Racquet club.

Jane Mader, Country club, took a fast match from Jane Littleton, Racquet club, 6 to 4.

Plans are being made for a county-wide open tennis tournament to be conducted within the next few weeks at the Country club.

PATTERN 9495

Have you ever noticed how tired and bedraggled a wardrobe can get about this time of year? Nothing seems to look quite fresh and sparkling enough for those special occasions, that is nothing but a frock like pattern 9495 that sort of "bridges the gap" between very Summer and very Fall things! Make it up in a heavy sheer, of a medium dark color and wear a rich velvet contrasting bow below the young collar. You'll find its chic tailored lines easy to make. A three-quarter puff sleeve is a flattering possibility. Choose a becoming new Fall shade and heavy sheer is best. Complete, Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9495 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 4 yards 58 inch fabric. PATTERN 5411

Great is the satisfaction to be had from knitting one's own clothes, for they're bound to have that expensive handmade look. Here is a one-piece dress that will give your figure those enviable combined lines—it's a style that combines both lacy and plain stitches. The body of the dress is in a lovely, lacy, stitch that you'll find easy to follow—the detail shows the pretty effect it has. The sleeves, yoke and belt are in the plain knitting; the yoke is knitted right with the body. In fact the dress is a one-piece one, the sleeves and collar of course being joined on extra. Shetland floss makes an effective dress and complete instructions for making the dress in size 16-18 and 38-40 with long or short sleeves; an illustration of the dress and of all stitches used; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Herald Household Arts Dept., 124 W. Main-st., Circleville, O. you know what a wide color range you have in that.

Strange Coincidence

The sudden death of John N. Hedges at his home in Walnut-twp Thursday afternoon discloses a strange coincidence in the fact that his widow is the fifth daughter of the family of the late John Wilson and wife of Madison-twp to lose her husband by death, as follows: Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Mrs. Emma Saladay, Ashville; Mrs. Shinn Alspaugh, Mrs. David Hall, Madison-twp; Mrs. Hedges, Walnut-twp.

Ex-Ashville Girl Weds

Ruth Marguerite, daughter of M. and Mrs. E. S. Hockman of Vancouver, Wash., was united in marriage to Capt. Jesse DeWitt Cope, U. S. Army, 27th ult. The Hockman family resided in Ashville some 20 years ago where he served as Mayor of the village. Mrs. Hockman is a sister of Clyde Brinker, Long-st confectioner.

Stricken Visiting Relatives

Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Joplin, Mo., who came here several weeks ago on a visit to Mrs. C. D. Poulson on Walnut-st and other relatives, suffered a paralytic stroke and is in a serious condition. Mrs. William Fischer, graduate nurse, is in charge of the patient. Mrs. Martin is a sister of the late C. D. Palmer, for a number of years agent for the Norfolk & Western Ry. company at Ashville.

Improving Slowly

Word from B. E. Fellers who was removed to the home of his niece in Columbus last Sunday, is that he is making slow recovery from a month's illness.

Buys Bloomfield Property

Ex-mayor Conrad Calahan of South Bloomfield, has purchased the Samuel Reynolds property on Route 23 in that village at a price reported around $1,600. This is one of the parcels of property which sold at sheriff's sale last month for the unprecedented price of $4,200, which was $1,750 above appraisement.

G. O. P. BEGINS

Nevertheless, his geography is right; he is Nebraska. His economic past is ideal for today's situation. G. O. P. leadership has a notion that, with proper grooming, it might actually "stand a show" to win with him.

Nye Has a Following

Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota has a substantial following. He represents somewhat the "youth movement." He is a liberal, but not far enough to the left to terrify the conservative element.

No one imagines that he could win the presidency, however, if nominated.

No one imagines that Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa or Representative James W. Wadsworth of New York could win, either, though their lightning rods are up. Governor Frank F. Merriam of California is mentioned, but with enthusiasm.

Not Representative Hamilton

Fish, Jr., of New York taken over seriously.

I like Fish personally. He is a conservative who believes that the conservatives have overdone conservatism and demands that they go into reverse, for their own safety—or they will precipitate a communistic regime. He calls himself a liberal. He is, in a sense, a liberal because he desires to preserve conservatism.

Colonel Frank Knox's bid for the nomination has not produced much impression to date.

The colonel (publisher of the Chicago Daily News) is referred to by politicians as one of the many Republicans who, if nominated, would not stand a ghost of a show of being elected.

Patrick Hurley, who was Hoover's secretary of war, also is an aspirant, but nobody in Washington suggests him.

Ogden P. Mills, another Hoover cabinet member, is spoken about, but nobody concedes him a chance for nomination.

Supreme Court Justices Harlan, E. Stone and Owen J. Roberts are additional presidential "possibilities" whose names are mentioned with no note of genuine conviction. For one thing, no practical politician has any notion that either would accept. Neither one could win, anyway; that also is conceded.

Still less is Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes referred to otherwise than purely theoretically too old, plus many other disqualifications.

It is surprising how many Republicans, asked who would be the best 1936 G. O. P. presidential nominee, answer:

"Al Smith."

THIRD KILLED IN PLANE ACCIDENT

CHICAGO, Aug. 5—A third man died today from hurts received in a plane crash over the Stinson airport near La Grange yesterday. He was Dickson Webb, 52, Berwyn flying instructor.

Witnesses declared Webb bailed sharply after a power dive, jamming a wing of his plane with another flown by John G. Harvey, 36, of Glenview, only 100 feet above the field.

Harvey and Kermit Hobbs, 30, instructor at the airport, who was with him, died shortly after the crash of the local planes.

Frank Krieger is still in a critical condition. He was taking a lesson from Webb.

Others Quiet, Too

The candidates for the other city offices have been unusually quiet but are expected to become active during the next week.

No activity has yet been noted in the villages of the county where candidates must file petitions with the board of elections not later than Sept. 13. Bernard Young of Pickaway-twp and C. Everett Dick of Monroe-twp will be up for re-election to positions on the county school board, where splendid harmony has been reigning for the past couple of years.

The terms of Charles H. May and C. R. Baughart on the city board expire and they too are expected to be in the race. Robert G. Colville, who becomes treasurer the first of September, will not be a candidate for re-election and Rev. L. C. Sherburne has filed his petition for the school board berth.

A number of trustees are to run and so are township board of education officials.

The quietness of the campaign is shown in the fact that the number of absent voters' ballots sent to the board of elections office is far below par for a primary.

5 CRIMINALS

Verona, Mo., used a sharpened file to cut two attendants. McCarrick took keys from one of the guards and liberated the five other prisoners.

When Attendant Scott Humphries appeared he was held at bay and the two were later looked up by the escaping convicts as they made their break.

The criminals who made the break in addition to St. John and McCarrick were: William Smith, of St. Louis, 35, who is serving life for robbery; Edward Marcum, St. Louis, 26, doing ten years for robbery; George R. Rogers, 55, sentenced to eight years for burglary, and Oliver Hamilton, 35, another killer.

Sheriff's deputies and members of the Missouri state highway patrol are cooperating in the search for the escaped insane criminals. The officers have orders to shoot at the first sign of resistance.

THE MAN SUCCESSFULLY EVADES "G-MEN", ROBINSON, MANIAC STOLL ABDUCTOR

Case Remains Unsolved Puzzle to Government

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The man who kidnapped Mrs. Berry V. Stoll, Louisville society matron, was few months before the crime had been judged mentally unbalanced but today, nine months after the crime, he remains the only major kidnaper who has escaped the vigil of the nation's men.

The kidnaper is Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., late of Nashville, Tenn. The government agents know his name. They have his picture. They have everything in hand except Robinson. He remains at large. His case remains a mighty puzzle to the federal operatives and the police of the nation.

Ransom Paid
Robinson dropped from sight in Indianapolis when the $50,000 ransom was paid by Mrs. Stoll's husband, wealthy Louisville oil man, and he has remained out of sight as far as federal agents are concerned.

The vigil of the government has been kept constant. A close check has been kept for the marked ransom bills and here is another puzzle. Robinson collected and fled with $50,000 in marked money. Now, nine months after he started dodging the law, only $500 of this marked money has turned up.

How the kidnaper is living is as much of a puzzle as how a crazy man, working single handed, could outwit the far-flung forces of the department of justice.

G-men hold their tongues. There has been no official comment on the Robinson hunt, except brief statements from time to time that still is in progress.

Widespread Search
Unofficial sources have revealed that the search has extended from the east coast to the west, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border and beyond.

At one time, a few months ago, a mighty net was set up to trap Robinson in California when it was rumored that he was preparing to flee the country on a boat from some California port. Nothing came of this.

At another time the hunt extended outside the boundaries of the United States when a hotel proprietor in Ontario reported he had recognized a guest as closely resembling Robinson. This clue also failed.

For some weeks the hunt was concentrated in the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Reports there was that Robinson was living in Minneapolis, that he had applied at a hospital for medical attention and had fled before seeing a doctor. A nurse who interviewed the prospective patient swore he was the kidnaper of Mrs. Stoll.

In Tennessee
Another hot tip—hot at the time—came from motorists in Tennessee who said they believed a hitch-hiker who had thumbed a ride with them was Robinson.

This tip, and all of the others before and after, blew up. Robinson, the crazy kidnaper, continued to keep out of the reach of the law.

The Stoll kidnapping, for which Robinson still is hunted, was one of the strangest on record. The Louisville society leader, Junior League officer and Bryn Mawr alumnus, was snatched from her home in an exclusive section of Louisville after having been beaten.

A rambling ransom note was found on the lawn of the Stoll estate. It indicated that Mrs. Stoll's husband and not Mrs. Stoll had been marked by the kidnaper. The note demanded $50,000 and threatened the worst if the money was not paid.

Flees With Victim
As he dragged Mrs. Stoll, clad only in a negligee and fur coat, from her home, the kidnaper was accosted by a maid. He beat her brutally and tied her to a chair. Then he fled with his victim.

The Stoll abduction alarm started a mighty hunt for the victim and her kidnaper but, after several days, police dropped their vigil so that Stoll could negotiate directly with his kidnaper.

Suspicion first was attached to Robinson when notes to Stoll advised him that either Thomas H. Robinson, Sr., of Nashville, or Mrs. Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., was to be the intermediary. Then the call went out to get Robinson. Stoll begged police to keep out. He wanted to pay the $50,000. He wanted his wife back and he feared she would die if left in the hands of her abductor.

Traced to Indianapolis
Six days after the kidnapping the big break came. Federal agents trailed Mrs. Robinson to Indianapolis, they lost track of her for a few hours, then learned she had driven out of the city.

The agents were hot on her trail. They caught up with the machine at Scottsburg, Ind., near the Ohio river. Mrs. Robinson was inside. And so was Mrs. Stoll. Two other occupants were the Rev. Arnold Clegg and his wife of Indianapolis. Robinson was gone. In the few hours Mrs. Robinson had been out of the agents' sight he had collected the ransom and fled.

Wife Feared Husband
Taken to jail in Louisville, Mrs. Robinson removed a knife with a three-inch blade from her purse. She said she had been carrying it to protect herself and Mrs. Stoll.

The Cleggs cleared up their position in the case by explaining that Mrs. Robinson had brought Mrs. Stoll to their home and asked them to drive to Louisville to return her to her home and family.

Mrs. Robinson said she knew her husband was a maniac. She feared the worst after he executed his mad kidnapping plot.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fox and son visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stief and family in Columbus, Sunday.

Mrs. Phyllis R. Tootle and Clyde Tootle, were Sunday dinner guests in London at birthday party given by Mrs. Orley Tootle honoring the birthday anniversary of her husband. Other members of the family and a few friends were guests.

Miss Bertha McGhee entertained a small party of friends at her home Friday.

DR. MILES' ANTI-PAIN PILLS

She said she believed she had kept him from murder.

Mrs. Robinson and her father-in-law were indicted as accessories in the crime. But the law never has been able to lay a finger on the real abductor.

Sent to Asylum
Robinson's unbalanced mental state was revealed during an examination in Nashville after his arrest there in a $60,000 jewel robbery. His sentence was 30 days' observation in a Tennessee insane asylum.

A short time prior to the Stoll abduction, Robinson drove a Nashville woman into the country, stripped her of her jewels and attempted to attack her. He was being sought on an abduction warrant at the time of the Stoll kidnapping.

JAPAN TO ARM ABYSSINIANS IF ITALIANS FIGHT

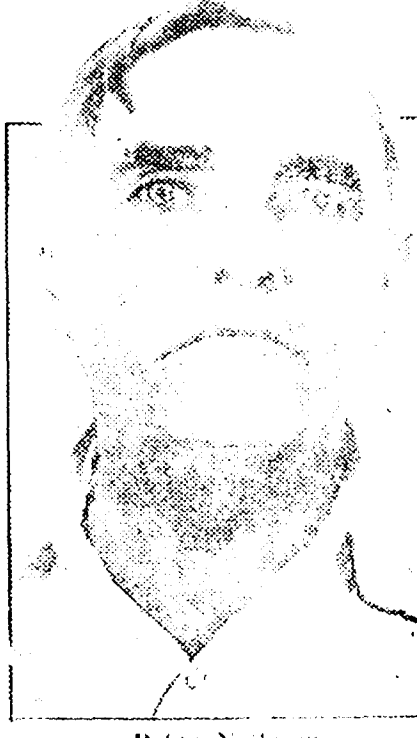

CONTRACT FOR SUPPLY AIRED

Believe Britain May Remove Ban if Peace Efforts Fail; Eden Censured.

LONDON, Aug. 5 Japan has agreed to supply arms to Abyssinia, and a contract for a huge order has already been placed. This sensational development in the "Holy war" with all the colored races lined up on the side of Ethiopia against Italy, was reported today in an exchange telegraph message from Addis Ababa. The Abyssinian government, according to Exchange, signed a contract Friday for Japan to supply "a very large consignment" of arms and ammunition intended to accelerate modernization of the Ethiopian army. Arrangements have almost been completed, the dispatch added, for the sending of a Japanese military and commercial mission to Abyssinia. Japanese patriotic societies, public, and newspapers have shown decided favoritism for Abyssinia in the present quarrel, especially in view of Japan's trade expansion in Africa, and recent assurances by Japanese diplomats aboard that Japan would not interfere brought the official response in Tokyo that Japan could not guarantee to remain aloof. Favor Africans At that time it was said, no arms were being shipped to Abyssinia, but the government refused to promise not to lift the embargo in the future. There was also believed to be considerable likelihood that Britain will remove her ban on arms shipments if present peace efforts fail, as seems probable. Returning from his session of the League of Nations council at Geneva, Capt. Anthony Eden spent the August bank holiday today at the home of Sir Philip Sassoon near Hythe preparing a full report to be given to Premier Stanley Baldwin and Foreign Minister Sir Samuel Hoare tomorrow and to other members of the cabinet later in the week. Meanwhile London hastened to cable Tokyo's refusal to be bound by declaring that Capt. Eden's broadcast at Geneva: "The negotiations have not moved on, for the council will have to discharge the obligations placed on it under the League of Nations covenant," was not intended as a veiled threat against Italy, but merely as an academic re-statement of the situation. Too Dangerous There was, however, much criticism heaped on Capt. Eden in some British circles for his attitude, which could be interpreted as binding Britain still closer to possible dangerous league sanctions.

4 Years in Baby Case

Arrested in a raid on a "baby farm" in St. Paul, Minn., Peter Nielsen, above, 41-year-old laborer and "doctor," admitted, according to police, he had performed 1,000 illegal operations over a period of 10 years. Two of his alleged victims were in a St. Paul hospital suffering from blood poisoning. After pleading guilty, Nielsen was sentenced to four years in prison.

Elevator Construction To Prove of Interest

Residents who wish to see a Ralston Co., Kansas City, Mo., unique type of work seldom seen in this vicinity should visit the Ralston-Purina Co. this week and view the construction of the new elevator. Concrete pouring on the foundation which is about 80 feet square and 12 feet deep was started today. For the construction of the storage bins a sliding form is used. This form is the size of the building, 42 by 30 feet, and 42 inches high. The elevator will consist of eight round bins 14 feet, six inches in diameter with intermediate bins between each tube on the outside and inside making a total of 30 bins. There will be a basement twelve feet high under the elevator with a library for unloading bins and a gallery on top with machinery for filling bins. The form used for concrete pouring is raised by means of lift jacks on iron rods. Seventy-five rods and jacks will be used on the form and as the pouring progresses more rods are added. The pouring is continuous, rain or shine, as the concrete is never allowed to set before more is added. The elevator will tower 150 feet and the concrete pouring will continue six weeks. A high wood scaffold is used to raise carriers of concrete to the pouring level where it is dumped into a hopper and working distributed in the form. Fifty workmen are employed on the work, according to J. H. Duffy, superintendent in charge of the work for the Jones-Hottel-Sater Con-
